Polo Grounds, N. Y. Oct. 13.—The Yankees and the Giants had better trade ball parks for the regular season.

Coming back to the National League yard in the fourth game of the private World Series this afternoon, the Yankees evened the series count and again put the teams at scratch by banging out an 8 to 4 victory over the McGraw men.

Knocking two pitchers out of the box in the second inning, the Huggins outfit piled up an impressive lead that was never headed. In the meantime Shawkey was not doing any spell binding stunts with the old agate, but he had good support that saved him at crucial times and he also possessed the happy faculty of pitching well with men on bases.

The big inning was started off by Pipp, he with the cut-glass ankle, who singled to center. Ward also singled and Schang was safe when John Scott fumbled his effort, filling the bases. E. Scott singled to left scoring Pipp and Ward. Schang taking third, while John Scott was recalled in favor of Rosie Ryan. Shawkey knocked a sacrifice fly to Stengel on which Schang scored. Witt doubled to left scoring Scott, and Dugan grounded to Groh who retired Witt. Ruth walked. R. Meusel tripled to left scoring Dugan and Ruth and McQuillan replaced Ryan. Pipp filed to Stengel to end the inning.

In the third Ward walked and Schang sacrificed. Scott singled to left center sending Ward to third from where he scored on Witt's double to left. The Yanks added another in the fourth. Ruth walked and Bob Meusel fanned. Pipp singled to left, sending Ruth to third from where he scored on Ward's single. Schang and E. Scott filed out.

The lineup: Giants—Bancroft, ss

Groh, 3b; Frisch, 2b; Young, rf; E. Meusel, lf; Stengel, cf; Kelly, 1b; Snyder, c; J. Scott, p; Ryan, p; McQuillan, p; Jounard, p.

Yankees—Witt, cf; Dugan, 3b; Ruth, rf; R. Meusel, lf; Pipp, 1b; Ward, 2b; Schang, c; E. Scott, ss; Shawkey, p; Penrock, p.

The Giants saved themselves from a whitewashing in the eighth. Young, E. Meusel and Stengel singled. Young scoring. Meusel scored on Kelly's out and Stengel scored on Snyder's out. O'Connell batted for Jounard and was hit, while Bancroft singled and Groh walked, filling the bases, but Penrock replaced Shawkey and got Frisch on a pop-up.

FORD TO RETURN PROFITS SHARE

Detroit, Mich. Oct. 13.—Henry Ford will return approximately $1,750,000 to the government, his share of the Ford Motor Company's profits on war contracts. It was learned today. The Ford Motor Company made a total net profit of $7,000,000 on $90,000,000 worth of contracts and Ford received slightly more than half of the $7,000,000.

Deducting war taxes, his profit was $1,750,000 and this he intends to return, it was said. Ford does not speak for other Ford stockholders.

WEEKS REPLIES TO ACCUSATION MADE BY FORD

Declares Motor King Made Reckless Statements in His Charges

Washington, Oct. 13.—Henry Ford's statement assailing Secretary of War Weeks in connection with the Muscle Shoals controversy was read with interest here.

Coming coincidentally with Ford's tacit approval of the filing of a petition to make him a candidate of the Progressive party in Nebraska presidential preference primary, it carried a shock which aroused political circles.

The attack on Secretary Weeks was the overshadowing topic of discussion at the cabinet meetings. It sent Mr. Weeks scurrying to the White House to consult with the president and his official advisers, because of the grave accusations against him personally and the reflection upon the government through him as the highest official involved. The possible political effect on Ford's charges, should they take root in the minds of the farmers for whom they were designed, instantly was recognized on all hands.

The war secretary was considerably agitated, but declined to comment until he had laid the matter before the president and cabinet and got their advice as to what best should be done. The decision, after an earnest discussion, was that Mr. Weeks should issue a formal reply. The secretary went back to his office and prepared a statement. He went over the drafting of his defense with the president, who gave it his approval.

In his statement the secretary treats the attack as personal upon him. His retort is that Ford's statement was "filled with reckless assertions," but he softens the return blow by suggesting that because of his reliance upon other persons "in the conduct of so many enterprises," Ford "probably is not himself possessed of the full facts of the situation."

Mr. Weeks asserts that he never has opposed "Mr. Ford's securing use of this water power or any other equipment we have, provided he is able to give such assurance of its being devoted to this particular purpose (the manufacture of cheap fertilizer) as will satisfy congress and properly protect the public interest."

Mr. Ford's charge was that Secretary Weeks, prompted by political considerations and corporation lawyers, has prevented him from obtaining the Muscle Shoals properties from the government.

Secretary Weeks' statement intimated future action. In ending, the secretary says he will not continue a newspaper discussion of the subject, "but if necessary shall place all facts before a proper tribunal." In quarters close to the secretary a threat of a libel suit was seen in the statement. Others interpreted it as meaning the secretary was willing to air the whole case before a congressional investigation.

GOVERNOR DEFERS ACTION IN CANTON

Columbus, Oct. 13.—Governor Donahy, in a message to the people of Canton, informed them of charges filed with him against E. E. Curtis, safety director of that city. The governor announced the charges had been filed in the heat of a mayoralty campaign and that he would not go into them until after election. "I do not want to use my office as a political vehicle, influence, or impediment of any kind in a local campaign," the governor wrote.

ENTIRE BLOCK IS FIRE THREATENED

Canton, O. Oct. 13.—Fire here today destroyed three dwellings and damaged the Lyceum theatre and the Stark Dry Goods Company building to the extent of about 50,000.

Firemen's quick work saved the block in which the buildings are located. Ten houses were ablaze at one time due to the intensive heat from the buildings destroyed but heavy streams of water played on the structures just beginning to burn, halted the fire's progress.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG NAMED

Clara Kimball Young

Clara Kimball Young, noted motion picture actress, has been accused by Joseph Sachs, millionaire Pasadena (Cal.) merchant, of having persuaded his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Sachs, to leave him. Charges and counter charges of gay moonlight bathing parties in Santa Monica's beaches were set forth in his answer to his wife's suit for separation.

BRING GOVERNMENT WITNESSES IN CASE IN WEST VIRGINIA

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 13.—The government was today to bring witnesses to the trial in the "alcohol case," the first of wet conspiracy trials to reach trial in United States court here and involving nine defendants from Wheeling, Martins Ferry and Columbus, Ohio. The case centers over the bringing of a carload of alcohol from Hermitage, Tenn., here and is similar to recent cases at Toledo and Dayton. But a short session of course is expected today, at which the government will renew its fight to have the jury taken to Martins Ferry to view properties there involved by the evidence.

The defense has objected to the trip, inasmuch as it took the jury from the northern district of West Virginia into southern district of Ohio, or without the jurisdiction of the court.

Employees of the B. and O. railroad gave vital government evidence when they testified that S. K. Johnson, former Wheeling treasurer and one of the defendants had paid the freight charges on the alcohol sent here. It was the first real implication of the former city official in the transactions that involved the sale of 50,000 gallons of alcohol, through previous evidence has disclosed the fluid was stored in his warehouse. It is anticipated the government will rest its case next Monday.

ATTORNEY FIRED BY J. C. WALTON

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 13.—Aldrich Blake, counselor to Governor J. C. Walton, was handed his notice of dismissal. His discharge followed a heated conference behind barred doors. "I was notified of my dismissal," Blake said when asked if it was true he had been dismissed. "I have nothing further to say," he added. The action of the governor in dismissing Blake confirms reports of a serious rupture between the governor and his advisers, who plotted him through his war against the Ku Klux Klan. The governor is now facing impeachment by the legislature.

IMPLICATE ANOTHER IN ALLEGED CRIME

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—A fourth person has been implicated in the alleged $100,000 blackmail plot against John L. Bushnell, Springfield banker. It was learned here. Federal agents are in Springfield seeking a man believed to be an accomplice. Three persons are already in federal custody in connection with the Bushnell case. They are: Don Osborn, Hollywood movie director; Rose Putnam, Osborn's niece, and Albert S. Harris, alias Mills, of Hollywood.

KILLS PLAYMATE

Toledo, Oct. 13.—Albert Beadle, 9, was shot and killed by his playmate, Frank Jawariki, 8. The latter pointed a shotgun at young Beadle and, playfully calling "hands up," pulled the trigger. The lad said he didn't know the gun was loaded.

STRESEMANN IS NOW VIRTUALLY FULL DICTATOR

Reichstag Passes "Authorization" Act by Big Majority

IS FATEFUL DAY

Red Agent Reported To Be in County—Remains In Hiding

Frankfurt On The Main, Germany, Oct. 13.—Food riots broke out here today. Shops were besieged and were closed up to prevent looting. Demonstrations were made against high prices and unemployment.

Hoechst, Germany, Oct. 13.—Three persons were killed and many wounded in riots here today.

Widespread riots took place in various parts of Germany throughout Friday in which it was estimated that from 10 to 15 persons were killed and about 100 injured. Some were demonstrations by unemployed. Others were bread riots while in Saxony the Communists conducted demonstrations.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—By a vote of 316 to 24, the Reichstag today passed the "authorization act" conferring dictatorial powers upon the Stresemann government.

It was reported that Chancellor Stresemann would dissolve the Reichstag, taking complete responsibility for all government decisions.

The Reichstag voting was conducted with cards. Supporters of the dictatorship voted with white cards, the opponents used red cards, while the abstainers had blue cards.

This was a fateful day for the republic. Early in the morning the chancellor warned political leaders that he would dissolve the Reichstag if his bill did not get the necessary two thirds to enact it. There was an atmosphere of tension and hostility when the Reichstag convened after its recess from Thursday. Stresemann argued that dissolution of the Reichstag would be legal according to article 48 of the Weimar constitution.

However, President Ebert, at the last minute, appealed to the chancellor not to take this extreme measure unless every other means had failed.

Before the balloting began leaders of the German People's Party feared that the Socialist Democrats would throw their strength with the Communists, who opposed the authorization. Already the Socialists have entered into partnership with the Communists in Saxony, where they dominate the government and a similar coalition is under way in Thuringia.

It is learned that Karl Radek, chief propaganda agent of the Moscow government has suddenly appeared in Germany but is keeping in hiding. The German communist party has issued orders to all members to "keep themselves in readiness for possible action not later than Monday."

A curious feature of the Reichstag battle was that the chief opponents of the dictatorship law were Nationalists and Communists—two political factions that hold directly opposite views regarding government.

Either party would establish a ruthless dictatorship if it got the supreme power. Before the voting it appeared that the fate of the measure rested in the hands of 37 Socialist deputies, composing the Socialist minority and appeals were made to them by both sides.

Celsenkirchen, Oct. 13.—A gigantic demonstration in favor of a separate Rhinish republic, independent of the balance of Germany, took place here today. All the Ruhr is excited and nervous over the future for it is feared that proclamation of an independent state may lead to widespread fighting and bloodshed.

Coolidge Administration "Four Square" For Enforcement of Prohibition

Washington, Oct. 13.—Any uncertainty that may have existed as to the position of the Coolidge administration with respect to the enforcement of the national prohibition act was swept aside here today.

The "bone dry" attitude of the administration was revealed officially by Major Roy A. Haines, the federal prohibition commissioner, in an address before more than a thousand men and women gathered here in a conference to discuss law enforcement problems, with special reference to the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment.

"President Coolidge stands 'four square' for enforcement of the prohibition law," Commissioner Haines declared. "He is no less wholehearted regarding this matter than the late President Harding. The department of Justice is also in dead earnest."

It was the understanding among the religious, civic and social leaders composing the conference that the announcement of the prohibition commissioner was made with the full approval of the president.

Promising to tell "the truth about the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act," Commissioner Haines said that the law was now being enforced effectively but that "100 per cent enforcement" would not be possible for at least ten years.

"Adverse public opinion," which was said to exist mainly on the eastern seaboard was blamed by Haines for many of the problems which confront the government in keeping the country dry.

"The eighteenth amendment was the result of a great moral and religious fervor," Haines said. "The spirit which actuated the sponsors of this law certainly must be kept alive after the law has been written into the statutes."

The prohibition law and the narcotic laws are, and perhaps the most typical of American laws on our statute books. They represent the determination upon the part of the people to make certain restrictions upon their own personal habits for the good of the greatest number."

Haines charged the "liquor interests" with carrying on a tremendous propaganda to make the country believe that the prohibition law cannot be enforced.

"These minority forces," he said, "have not yet awakened to a realization that prohibition is now in the fundamental law of the land by the 18th amendment to the constitution. These forces, however, do not represent the great mass of the American people—those who comprise the bone and sinew of our body politics."

Haines declared that the charge of wholesale violations is unfounded, but had a complaint to register before enforcement was made more difficult because some of the people did not have the "proper patriotic attitude" toward the law.

BELIEVE JEALOUSY CAUSE OF SHOOTING

Stamford, Conn. Oct. 13.—An abandoned automobile is the only clue that the police have been able to find in their investigation of the shooting of Milton L. Maas, chemical manufacturer of New York, at the home of the beautiful and wealthy widow, Mrs. Ida M. Leslie. Maas, who is president of the Maas and Waldstein Chemical company, is in the Stamford hospital with a fighting chance for life. Two bullets struck him down, one passing through the wall of the abdomen and the other plowing through the left shoulder. The police have been unable to establish a motive for the shooting, unless, they said, it might be jealousy. Mrs. Leslie told the officers she was seized by one man on her own lawn and that when she screamed and Maas came running to her assistance a second man fired the shots that struck Maas. Then, she said, they ran away.

Booneville, Mo. Oct. 13.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes brought her fight for her good name to this little mid-Missouri town today. She arrived hours before dawn in a drizzle of rain. With Mrs. Stokes was Mrs. C. A. Meservey, of Colorado Springs, Colo., her traveling companion and Isador Shapiro, one of her counsel.

Here live Arthur and Wilbur Wallace, partners in the Booneville Ice and Laundry Company. It is the family of Edgar T. Wallace, millionaire, now of San Francisco, on whom W. E. D. Stokes, 73-year-old New York millionaire hotel owner, and turfman, is concentrating his charges against his wife in his second divorce suit.

MIAMISBURG BANK HEAD ADMITS LARGE SHORTAGE

Miamisburg, Oct. 13.—Alleged misapplication and misappropriation of the funds of the Miamisburg Banking Co., over a period of five years, which is expected to total $110,000 culminated today with the closing of the institution and the arrest of its president, John J. Schwartz, of 223 Central Ave., Dayton, charged with the defalcations.

Schwartz is said to have voluntarily admitted his speculations to a friend yesterday just before H. E. Scott, state superintendent of banking, arrived here and started an investigation of the bank's accounts. Examiners worked most of the night and this morning ordered Schwartz's arrest for defalcation of bank's funds "totaling more than $50,000."

Schwartz waived preliminary examination before Mayor E. T.

Munea and was held in the Dayton Jail pending fixing of bond, when the examiners completed their probe. Seven directors of the bank may be implicated for failure to investigate alleged forged notes issued by Schwartz on depositors of the bank and against alleged fictitious depositors.

Schwartz is said to have admitted he had speculated in stocks on margin on the New York and Chicago exchanges. It had been rumored here several years ago that the operations of the bank were questionable, but the closing of the institution this morning came as a sudden surprise.

The bank was instituted in 1907 and is capitalized at $25,000 and has a surplus of $6,000. It is said depositors and directors stand to lose practically all their investments and savings.

MONEY CANNOT BUY THE HEART OF YOUTH SAYS STOKES WHO EXPECTS TO LOSE CASE

New York, Oct. 13.—Can gold???—millions—ever buy the heart of youth—love???

No!!

William Earl Dodge Stokes gave that answer today—the first interview he has ever given in the five years since he instituted divorce proceedings against his beautiful young wife, Helen Elwood Stokes.

Out of the experience of his 73 years at the game of hearts—bullet-scarred years, in which he has learned the wrath of women scorned, Stokes spoke today. "I know now," he said, "She—the referred to the titian-haired beauty, who when he was 63, and she but 21, married him at a Gretna Green in New Jersey—pledged her heart against my wealth. It was her bargain. I lived up to mine—I loved. She didn't."

That was all Stokes had to say. True or false, Stokes, without doubt believes the charges he has lodged against his wife. He has accused her of friendship with 57 men. He has named 46 separate incidents of these alleged friendships. Whether he can prove them depends upon the jury now hearing his charges.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF GOVERNMENT IS INDICTED ON CHARGE

Cincinnati, O. Oct. 13.—On an indictment returned against him at the June term of United District Court at Elkins, W. Va., charging conspiracy with officers of the United States Harness Company to defraud the United States by entering into manipulations to make possible the sale of approximately $2,000,000,000 in surplus war materials to the company at prices far below the real value, &c. Ernest C. Morse, 3613 Kendall avenue, Hyde Park, vice president in charge of sales of the Triumph Electric Company, Cincinnati, is under arrest today.

He was director of sales of the War Department, appointed by former Secretary Newton D. Baker, and the government placed in his charge the sale of surplus materials including the equipment which he is alleged to have permitted the harness company to purchase at prices far below value.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. LUCRETIA M'CASLIN

Mrs. Lucretia McCaslin, 79, mother of Mrs. L. L. Taylor, of Yellow Springs, died at her daughter's home there Friday night at six o'clock. Death was due to apoplexy, from which she had been confined to her bed for the last four years.

Mrs. McCaslin came to Yellow Springs from New Lexington, Ohio, four and one-half years ago to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor. Her husband preceded her in death, but she is survived by three sons, C. H. and C. W. McCaslin of near New Lexington, D. E. McCaslin, superintendent of schools at St. Louis, Mo., and one daughter, Mrs. Taylor. She also leaves a brother, Whitely Carroll, of New Lexington and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Bush, of Columbus. LEGION CHAPLAIN AND EX-JAMESTOWN PRIEST LENDS AID

The Rev. William P. O'Connor, of Cincinnati, National Chaplain of the American Legion and former pastor of St. Augustine's Church, at Jamestown, distinguished himself by service at the scene of the hold up of the first section of Southern Pacific Train, No. 13, robbed by four bandits at the mouth of a tunnel in the Siskiyou Mountains, in California, Thursday, it has been learned.

The Rev. Father O'Connor was in the second section of the train, which was unharmed, on his way to San Francisco to attend the national convention of the Legion. When the first section was held up, the bandits killed the trainmen, dynamited and fired the mail car, and stole valuable mail.

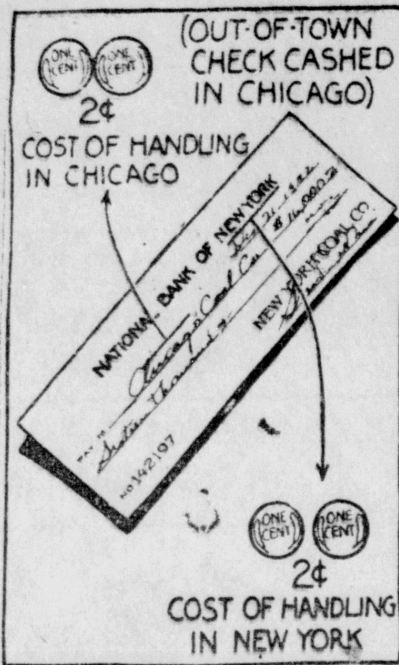

The second section was stopped on the other side of the tunnel. With Joseph Sparks, national chairman of the Legion Rehabilitation Committee, the Rev. Father O'Connor scrambled over the steep, rugged hill between his train and the scene of the hold-up. As soon as he arrived on the other side he was led to where the bodies of the bandits' victims lay.

Over the bodies of S. L. Bates, 55, engineer, Marvin Seng, 23, fireman, and Coyle O. Johnson, 40, a brakeman, and while passengers stood with bared heads bowed and the flames from the blazing mail car sounded a steady requiem, the Rev. Father O'Connor said prayers over the dead. The body of Elwyn E. Dougherty, 35, was in the wrecked mail car.

After his spiritual duties were completed, the Rev. Father O'Connor peeled off his coat and worked period by period with trainmen and other passengers extinguish the fire in the mail car. He then aided in quelling an incipient panic among passengers on the section that had been held up.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

The average cost to banks of cashing a check is between 3 and 4 cents. This means the total handling expense involved in cashing and collecting from the bank it is drawn on. The total cost of between 3 and 4 cents a check is usually divided between two banks. The bank on which the check is drawn sustains an expense of about two cents for the handling and printing. The bank which cashes the check has a cost of 1 cent if the check is drawn on a local bank. If it is an out-of-town check, the cost, without interest, will come to approximately 2 cents, because more handling is required, and postage and stationery must be added.

These costs are not the same for every bank or every check. They are the average results found by an analysis of bank expenses over a period of several years.

He was burned, temporarily paralyzed and the joints of his body horribly sprained and twisted. The bolt disproved the ancient fallacy that iron is an attraction, for McQueen was struck within a few feet of a steel rail, and near a number of fences and steel towers. Yet lightning rod salesmen still have a big following.

The day is not distant now when gold, helium, silver, cobalt and hydrogen will be manufactured as easily as steel is manufactured today. Gold is doomed. It were better that the nations of the world abandon the absurd gold standard now and revert to a standard based on radium. All metals no matter of what classification, have a life of their own which like the human life, leads inevitably to death. The metal which has the most intense life is radium.

Radium is king of metals—not gold. Today we know that it is possible with radium to manufacture helium, and it is certain that tomorrow we shall be able with helium to manufacture gold.—Dr. E. P. Roger, of the Faculty of Science of Paris.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such effort overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Miss Mildred Wolf Prugh, only daughter of Mrs. Daniel Kieffer Prugh, of East Church Street, became the bride of Mr. Melvin Leroy Wagner, of Chicago, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Prugh home.

The Rev. V. F. Brown, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, officiated at the service, assisted by Dr. George Freeman Craig, of East Chicago, Indiana, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Dr. Craig is pastor of the Methodist Church at East Chicago.

Garlands of waxy Southern smilax were twined over the walls of the east room of the Prugh home where the vows were read. The greenery was also wound around the staircase and decked the rooms.

An improvised altar was arranged at a large French mirror, with ferns and tall potted plants. Two stately cathedral candles were placed at either side of the altar, alongside two baskets of white chrysanthemums. The entire scene was lighted with white candles in crystal holders.

Seventy-five guests witnessed the ceremony. The service opened with a piano number "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, played by Mrs. George Freeman Craig. Mrs. Craig blended into the wedding march from Lohengrin which marked the opening of the bridal procession.

Little Daniel Prugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Prugh, this city, nephew of the bride, led the procession down the stairs, as ring bearer. He wore a black velvet suit and carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Gowned in turquoise blue crepe satin, Miss Marjorie Flynn, as maid of honor, walked next. Her gown was featured with an ornament of rainbow hues and she wore silver slippers. Her flowers were a corsage of Columbia roses and smilax.

Miss Julia Wolf, bride's maid, who came next, wore shell pink crepe satin with a crystal ornament and bow caught on the side. She wore a gold band in her hair, with footwear of gold. She also carried a shower of Columbia roses and smilax.

The bride walked with her mother, who gave her in marriage. The bridal gown was of ivory crepe satin, trimmed with Rosalyn lace, with a simple neck line of lace. The gown was draped in front to the sides, with lace caught from each side, which fell to the floor. Panels of of satin fell from the shoulder to the train. The handsome lace was edged with seed pearls. A tulle veil was caught with a head band of the Rosalyn lace and orange blossoms and fell to the end of the train. The bridal bouquet was a shower arrangement of white roses and fern.

Mrs. Prugh was gowned in black Spanish lace over orchid metal cloth with a side train. She carried a shower of Columbia roses.

Mr. Phillip W. Prugh, brother of the bride as best man, entered from an adjoining room with the bridegroom. The single ring ceremony was solemnized.

Following a Wellesley College custom, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar, was played by Mrs. Craig, after the ceremony, and during the seating of the guests at dinner.

The bride's table was centered with a lovely bouquet of pink roses, with pink candles in crystal holders at each corner, and at the smaller tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner left Friday night for a wedding trip. Mrs. Wagner's traveling toilette consisted of a suit of soft taupe brown with a beaver collar. The coat was fashioned Mandarin style and a blouse to match completed the outfit. Her hat was also of brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will reside in Chicago. Mr. Wagner is associated with the Chicago Tribune with the Editorial Art Staff and has also a column as theater critic. He graduated in 1912 from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Wagner was a graduate in 1919 of Wellesley College. She taught economics two years in Central High School, this city. She is a member of the Senior Woman's Club.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Dr. and Mrs. George Freeman Craig, of East Chicago, Indiana; Professor and Mrs. John Beatty of Grand Rapids, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wagner of Jackson, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner of Belding, Michigan; Mrs. Jennie Serface of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Miss Katherine Gillar of San Gabriel, California. Professor Beatty was formerly connected with the music department of the Xenia public schools.

OUR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

Every year in the United States there are born thousands of babies with some slight deformity which will make them cripples for life unless corrective measures are taken in childhood. Sometimes they are crippled by some slight injury. Most of them are curable.

Medical science has made wonderful progress in the past few years. The war taught surgeons to perform wonders in relieving the results of injuries and in restoring cripples to perfection and usefulness. Almost any injury can be relieved except the actual replacing of a lost limb.

To the thoughtful man or woman there can be no more pitiful object in the world than a little child doomed to go through life a cripple, when proper attention by the proper surgeon would restore them to health and usefulness and happiness. It is the inherent right of every child to have a fair chance in the world and the Rotary Clubs of the United States have undertaken the task of seeing that every child is given this change.

Clinics for crippled children conducted by the best surgeons in the country are being held or will be held wherever there is a Rotary Club. When a child is pronounced curable, or possibly curable, that child is sent to the particular surgeon who specializes in the particular illness, injury or deformity from which that child is suffering. Money is no consideration where the restoration of a child to health and strong manhood or womanhood is concerned. There are plenty of people with big hearts and open purses for such work.

The chief obstacle in the way of the successful work of Rotary Clubs is the reluctance of parents to report their crippled children. They are afraid of operations, afraid their child will be separated from them.

Ignorance, poverty and pride are the chief obstacles which the Rotarians have to overcome. All of these obstacles must be removed, and they will be wherever the Rotarians can locate a crippled child. The parents will be assured that if their child is sent to a hospital it will be only with their consent and accompanied by one or both the parents. Poverty is no disgrace, but it is a disgrace to permit either poverty or pride to doom a child to a cripple for life.

An appeal has been issued to the public to help in this work by giving or sending to any Rotarian the name and address of crippled children. When a child is reported, a Rotarian will visit the parents and try to convince them it is their duty to give the child a chance.

If you know of a crippled child you will be aiding this great work by immediately reporting that child to some Rotarian.

HATS OFF TO THE "TARS."

From Cincinnati Enquirer: "America has reason to feel pride in her marines, for first in war and first in peace is the record of this gallant corps, whose exceptional history is too little known to the average citizen. Just now our Asiatic fleet has been thanked by the Japanese government for the great aid extended after the earthquake. And only recently speculation was rife as to how soon the guns of the fleet would answer those of the empire war armada in major conflict! The earth scarcely had ceased to tremble in the islands before our marines were on the spot and at work. Always they bear the brunt of first responsibility and danger. In this case it was not bullets they had to face, but widespread disaster, human sufferings. At once they began the work of rescue and rehabilitation. They built a great bakery, an automobile repair shop, straightened out transportation and cleaned things up generally. The marines were the first to get ashore at Yokohama, just as they always have been first ashore in any crisis, great or small. In more recent history this was so in Cuba, in the Philippines, in Mexico, in Europe. Every corner of the earth has known the marines as the pioneers in war or peace, always ready, always to be relied upon."

A new boiler for supplying heat to the County Children's Home is about to be installed in that institution. The Xenia school teachers will be present at the Royal Slave, coming to the Xenia Opera House, in force. Mr. Clarence Bennett, who takes the leading part, is an old Xenia school teacher. He sent

OBSTRUCTIONS ORDERED REMOVED

Ravenna, O., Oct. 13.—Immediate removal of a clump of bushes and a tall walnut tree from the Pennsylvania railroad curve where eight school children met death Thursday was demanded by T. H. Burke, inspector for the public utilities commission, following a second trip to the scene of the wreck. The coroner is conducting an inquest into the tragedy.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights. Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial. Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

THE SICK GOLFER

I shuddered when I heard him say: "I am not feeling well today." I hoped he'd not propose a bet. I've never lickd a sick man yet.

And as we stood upon the tee A sense of fear came over me—I heard him talk of aspirin. And knew I had no chance to win.

I've tackled men with fever high. And golfers just about to die. Neuritis patients, men with boils. And never gathered in the spoils.

I've played them when they couldn't see. Sat down and moaned at every tee. Sobbed dolefully their list of ills. And stopped the game to swallow pills.

I've tackled men with swollen knees. And men with every known disease.

Men who could hardly use their legs. And never taken home the eggs.

I've played with men whose backs were lame. Men who'd come out to play the game. Against the doctor's stern command. So weak they said, they couldn't stand.

I've played them after nights of woe. When indignation laid them low. And when much younger, and less wise. With golfers ill I'd sympathize.

So sorry for their plight I felt. I could not give the ball a belt— And then waked up too late to see. Those poor sick men outdriving me.

And so I sighd to hear him say: "I am not feeling well today!" Though countless invalids I've met. I've never lickd a sick man yet!

Today's Talk

THE SOFT ANSWER

You are familiar with the quotation from the Bible: "A soft answer turneth away wrath."

There seems to be quite a general opinion that in order to assert one's rights, it is necessary for a man to "fight back." It all depends. And what for, anyway? What are one's rights?

"I have lived long enough to note in observation over a wide number of years and the occasions for wrath—what is sometimes known as righteous wrath—are very rare."

It seems to me that a thing so sensitive as the human heart should always be respected by a strong man or a strong woman.

A hurt in the heart leaves a deeper scar than any possible hurt to the body.

I know that it pays to get used to giving the soft answer. It's a much more powerful weapon than the weapon of wrath and anger. The old adage that "whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad," has pungent truth to it.

Human life is a plastic affair. The cut of a word may be more potent than that of any sword.

There is only one instance in the life of Jesus where it is recorded that he lost his temper and that was when He drove the thieves out of the temple. In contrast, what sublime moments were those when He stood before Pilate who so unjustly accused Him. Did he not have all right upon His side? And yet what did He say? The story says that He answered not a word.

It takes more patience a heroism than Job ever had for one to give soft answers between heart thrusts, when one's faith is being battered and one's dreams being swept aside. Faith and dreams are not wholly fantastic.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath." It does more. It binds your friend tighter to you. It makes you bigger. It sweetens the atmosphere of the world. It is a contribution to the beauty of any character.

New York, Oct. 13.—The third game of the world series was won by the Giants yesterday when "Casey" Stengel hit a home run into the right field stands. This tally proved enough to decide the contest, as the Yankees failed to score.

The blow came in the seventh inning. "Irish" Meusel was the first of the Giants to face "Deacon" Jones in that frame and "Deacon" pitched to him with confidence born of the easy manner in which he had disposed of the heavy sluggers of the National league champions up to that moment. "Irish" Meusel hit a long fly to his left brother, Bob, in deep left. Then came "Casey" Stengel, with his queer, sideways batting position. The guttural voice of the bulky Nallin, the American league umpire, called a strike, then two balls on "Casey." On the next pitch from Jones "Casey" lashed at the ball. "Lashing" is the only way you can describe "Casey's" swing. The next instant the ball was sailing over Pipp's head and into the packed right field bleachers, and Stengel trotted around the bases and scored what proved to be the winning run.

The pitcher's battle went on to a finish, dull and drab for the Yankees, but most pleasing to the Giants. It was their second victory in the series, giving them the lead two games to one.

Babe Ruth got one hit and twice passed by Neph, pitching to the big slugger with extreme caution, and with many a preliminary glance at McGraw on the Giants' bench. Pipp was injured in a slide to second and Ruth finished the game at first.

Neph pitched well, but no better than "Deacon" Jones. The Yanks out-hit the Giants 6 to 4. Throw out "Casey" Stengel's mighty blow and the game would have gone on until nightfall.

Aside from Stengel's drive Heine Groh's fielding was the outstanding feature of the game.

A very interesting fact on the series to date is that the games have been won and lost on home runs. Stengel's homer in the ninth inning of the first game won for the Giants and he did it yesterday in the seventh. And Thursday three homers by the Yankees, two by Ruth, told the tale. Each team has now made three homers.

A new record for receipts and attendance was established. The official figures were as follows: Attendance, 62,430; total receipts, $201,072; players' share, $82,546.72; club owners' share, $68,364.48; commission's share, $30,160.80.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The entire naval oil reserve lands of the United States have been allocated to private interests for exploitation, imperiling the political and national future and independence of America. WEST MILTON WINS SECOND GAME FROM XENIA GRID TEAM

Xenia Central High football team lost its third game of the season and its fourth in three years to West Milton High at West Milton Friday afternoon. The Miami County team running up 19 points to none garnered by the Xenia eleven.

It was the second defeat in as many weeks at the hands of West Milton, resulting from weak tackling and line play, and lack of consistency on offense. The team's attacking power continues to improve when used properly but the line play was soft and erratic.

Often charging West Milton forwards would break up plays and attempted passes behind the line and the Xenia forwards seemed helpless in stopping their plunges and off-tackle plays, chief ground gainers for the West Milton gang. Out of the play of the Xenia team stood the performance of Bill Horner, switched from guard to center for the conflict and who ranged on both sides of the line with utter abandon, chasing down tackles and covering punts.

The backfield play was featured by the work of Holton and Zell, two husky backs, who are showing rapid improvement in the offensive game. Zell, after a week's lay-off from practice, came back in great shape and Holton's plunging was a revelation. Captain Fuller also played well in the backfield until relieved. Brumbaugh was again the big ground gainer for West Milton and the Xenia wing men had considerable difficulty in stopping him.

Coach Earl Burner's eleven showed its true form in the first quarter when an aggressive attack caused the blue and white team to look its best. Karns kicked off to Zell, who returned 20 yards and fumbled only to recover. Holton added three and then fumbled. West Milton recovering on the 40.

West Milton failed to gain on three plays and a pass failed on the fourth. Xenia taking the ball on the 30; Fuller made two, Holton 3, Zell 3 and Currie first down. Fuller was stopped and Holton made one. A pass failed and Currie punted out of bounds on the 30.

Brumbaugh made two in two attempts, and then made first down. Stopped on the next three attempts, Brumbaugh punted to Zell who fumbled, Currie recovering. Holton made eight in two attempts and Currie made first down. Currie lost two, but Holton made six. Currie four and Currie first down again. Scurry made eight and Holton again made it first down. The quarter ended with the ball on the 38 yard line.

Zell made four and Currie five, and Zell made first down. Zell made three and Xenia lost five for off side play. Holton made two and then five and a pass failed, but West Milton was penalized 14 yards for roughing the passer. Holton, Currie and Zell made seven and with the ball four yards from the goal line, Currie failed. Brumbaugh punted to Currie on the 32. Scurry made three and Fuller five and Currie lost eight yards. Fuller was swamped in an attempt to pass. West Milton taking the ball on downs. Brumbaugh made six and Xenia lost five for off side play. Karns made eight, then seven and Brumbaugh added eight. Karns scored on a cross buck on the next play. Xenia was off side on the try for point and the point was awarded West Milton.

Karns kicked off to Fuller who made a nice return to the 25. West Milton intercepted Scurry's forward pass as the half ends.

Karns kicked off to Currie who fumbled but recovered on the 30. Zell made three and Scurry lost four. Cross took Fuller's place at half back. Currie failed to gain and punted to Wilgus on the 50. Cross intercepted Brumbaugh's pass on the 40. Zell made one and Currie lost three and punted. A pass, Brumbaugh to Karns netted 15. Brumbaugh made eight and Crew made it first down. West Milton lost 15 yards for holding. A pass failed and Brumbaugh punted to Currie on his own 19.

Holton made one and Currie lost two and then was stopped. His attempted punt was blocked by Fitzhans, who covered the ball on the two yard line. Markley was called back and carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Karns missed the attempt to goal.

Karns kicked off over the goal line.

Xenia taking the ball on the 20. Zell lost one as the quarter ended. Chitty was substituted for Cross. Holton made two and West Milton was penalized five for offside play. Currie made seven around end. Scurry added one and Zell made it first down. Holton made one and Zell four, but Currie lost five. Currie punted out of bounds on the 40.

On the first play, Brumbaugh passed to Karns who covered 35 yards for the final touchdown. Xenia blocked the attempt to goal. Karns kicked off to Zell, who returned the ball to his own 38. Currie was stopped and then Crew intercepted a pass. West Milton lost 15 yards for a substitute talking on the first play. A pass Karns to Brumbaugh netted 25 yards. Two passes, Karns to Brumbaugh grounded as the game ended.

BAYLIFFS READY FOR NORTH DAYTON MERCHANTS SUNDAY

By L. J. Wones

The Bayliff Electric baseball team will close its season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park hooking up with the North Dayton Merchants, city champs of Dayton.

The Merchants have a real ball club and one that will give the Bayliffs a hard game. Steck, who manages the Dayton outfit, has assembled a smart bunch of diamond artists and they know the game well. The big thing about the Merchants is their hitting. They have beaten down many a diamond foe on their ability to clout the ball in the pinches. Their field is generally faultless and of the sensational type.

The Merchants' pitching never has been such a whole lot but it is good enough to give any semi pro team a merry time of it on the diamond. The North Dayton outfit has three good fielders in Steck, Jule Tangeman and Rosenkrantz. The last two played with the Champion Maxwell team while Steck was with the Scales, winners of the Municipal League pennant. Al Lape is another star performer. All plays at the far corner and takes care of everything that comes down his way. The rest of the team is equally as good and with Gaylor on first, Stuppe on second and Varley at short with DeHoney of the International League catching the Merchants promise to put up a stubborn game against the Bayliffs. Pease and Borman will take care of the hurling for Manager Steck's blue.

As to the Bayliffs they seem to be all set and feel confident they will be returned winners in Sunday's fracas. The Electric bunch have some nice diamond performers in the lineup. Early of Jamestown looks to be just as good a shortstop as any around these parts.

At present he is hitting .247 while his fielding in the 24 games played is .842 a good average. Russ Shuey who takes care of the initial sack for the Bayliffs, is another athlete who has won quite a few games for the Electrics this year. This is Russ's first year of playing at the initial sack and he is doing a nice job of it. Shuey is leading the Bayliffs with the ash having an average of 409 in the 18 games he has played with the "Jew's" nine.

Manager Bayliff will start Curtis Free against the North Dayton outfit and if Curt is in the same form he was last week he will make things a bit unpleasant for the Gem City tribe. Bob Herman will also be on hand ready to take up the pitching burden in case Free slips. Cation will catch. Shuey will be the doorman, Longnecker will take care of the middle sack. Early will be at short while Furnace will be found at the difficult corner. Leach, Stiles, Kavanaugh, Kelner and Horne will make up the outfield.

Play will be called at 2:45 o'clock with Norris in charge. Returns of the world's series game will be given by innings at the Park.

Grid-Dust

By Ray Higgins

It begins to look like Schwab, versatile end on the Central High School football team, is going to be a grid-iron hero this year.

If Coach Earl Burner's alleged football team keeps up its present tactics, Schwab will go down in Central High's football history, as the only player on the 1923 team to score a point during an entire season.

So far, Schwab is holding undisputed sway to the questionable honors. He gained his title through a matter of only a few inches. The inches stood between the ball and the goal posts the time he attempted a place kick from field in the first game with West Milton. Let's see, that way away back on October 5, 1923.

It seems the boys worked to ball down somewhere within striking distance but when it came to delivering the scoring punch, it was out like your last match at midnight. So Schwab was called back and place kicked the oval across the uprights with a few inches to spare. The kick gave Xenia three points. It was quite a memorial occasion. We remember that there was considerable cheering and all that sort of run-tum-tiddle.

We are recounting all of this all over again because it gave us the only opportunity we have had all season to write something nice about the boys.

A scoring punch means just as much to a sport writer as it does to a football team. If the team don't score, there is nothing to elaborate on. Max

Mr. William Fulkerson is visiting relatives in Dunkirk, Ind.

Earl Wright and Clifford Sanders, who have been occupying the Bill mayre home on the Van Eaton road have moved to Xenia. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have taken the Derrick house on Center Street, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will reside on West Second St.

We say "mighty little," because there is one thing that furnishes a thrill similar to a scoring punch. That is a defensive punch. If a team has neither, you can see where it leaves the sport writer. One of the first things a football team should learn is this: "A team cannot beat you if it is unable to score against you." Of course there is such a thing as a scoreless tie, but even a scoreless tie is better than a 19 to 0 defeat.

We said last week that Xenia would win the second game with West Milton by three touchdowns. We take it all back now. It was a typographical error. What we should have said was: "Xenia will win or lose by three touchdowns." You can't fool an expert.

Here is a tip! The team plays most of its games on Friday leaving only four practice days. Football players should ALL practice hard and faithfully ALL FOUR NIGHTS. Such a team is bound to win sometime.

Are You Contented?

AN enterprising publication recently asked thousands of farmers' wives this most personal question: "Are you contented with your lot?" In 94 per cent of all cases the answer was "Yes, decidedly."

Yet, only a decade ago farm life meant drudgery. Today the washing-machine and electric iron make quick work of what used to be a formidable task. New utensils speed up the preparation of meals. Dish washing is disposed of in short order. Vacuum cleaners lend their most effective aid. Running water, better cleansers and innumerable household helps lighten, quicken and improve the work.

That is what advertising means to women on the farm. It has brought them countless appliances which help in their work, better conditions in their homes, add to their pleasure and increase their interest in life.

Advertising means as much to you. Advertisements published in this paper continually tell of many conveniences and comforts that you might otherwise miss.

SCHOOL HEADS OF COUNTY ACT UPON QUESTIONS FRIDAY

Unanimous action on several county-wide school problems was taken at the meeting of superintendents and executive heads of ten different schools of the county at County Superintendent T. C. Aultman's office, Friday afternoon.

The school officials will attempt to make Greene County 100 per cent in enrollment in the State Teachers' Association, it was decided at the meeting.

The literary programs that have been in vogue during the winter months in Greene County schools, will be continued on the same plan as they were last year, with the exception of the debating contests between the different schools. If the debates are held they will be among students of the same school, to avoid feeling that has sometimes arisen, as the result of a heated debate between two different schools.

The meetings will be joint of fairs, each school to furnish half a program. The first meeting will be held the first Friday in December, the schools to join for the meetings, as follows: Cedarville High School at Ross Township; Bath Consolidated at Yellow Springs; Jamestown at Beavercreek; Springfield at Bellbrook; and Caesar Creek at Bowersville.

Most of the teachers will take their legal opportunity of attending the teachers' meeting of Central Ohio at Dayton, November 2. Ross Township school teachers and several others will attend the Southwestern Ohio meeting at Cincinnati, October 26 and 27.

The school heads decided at the meeting Friday to give informational geographic problem tests from the fifth to the eighth grades inclusive, throughout Greene County. The tests will follow the place and locational geographic tests, given this time last year in the same grades.

MRS. A. E. RANDALL DIES ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Anna E. Randall, 75, sister of John C. Littleton, of near Yellow Springs, died at the home of her brother, J. B. Littleton, 420 South Limestone Street, Springfield, Friday night. Funeral services will be held at two o'clock, Monday at the home of her brother, with interment at Ferncliff Cemetery.

Mrs. Randall leaves an adopted daughter, Mrs. George Schaeffer of Springfield; two brothers, J. B. Littleton, of Springfield, and John C. Littleton, of near Yellow Springs, and one sister, Mrs. A. H. Fry, of Springfield.

ADDRESSES WILL FEATURE MEETING

A program of addresses and reports from missionaries, branch and district officers and others, will take place at the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Springfield district, to be held at the High Street M. E. Church, Springfield, Friday, beginning at 10 a. m.

The Standard Bearers' banquet at six o'clock will bring together young women from all parts of the district.

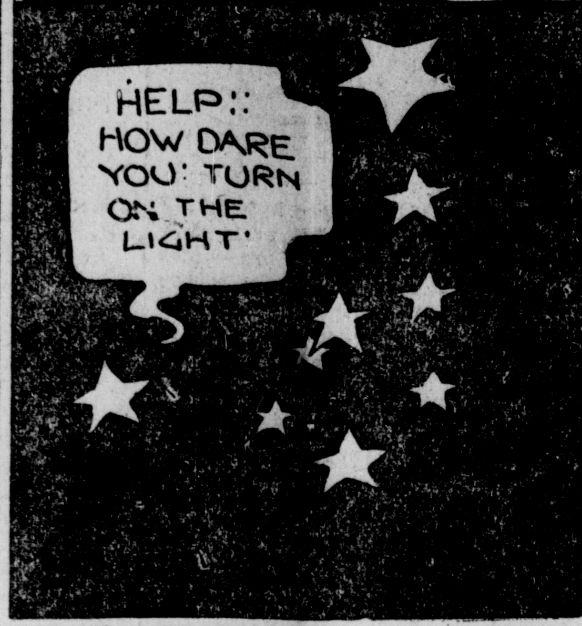

The Auxiliary of the W. F. M. S., of the First M. E. Church, this city, will meet at the home of Mrs. E. F. Canby, on North King street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when delegates to the district meeting will be appointed.

GETS DRIVE AGAINST THE CIGARETTE STARTED

Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter, president of the Greene County W. C. T. U., and campaign manager to prevent the cigarette in the hands of childhood, has returned from a tour of northern Ohio, where she succeeded in arranging for and starting a county drive, the nucleus of a state campaign in six counties, to combat the cigar.

The W. C. T. U. has only fourteen months to secure from 5,000 to 25,000 members of the campaign in each county in the state, according to Mrs. Flatter. "The work will be done as the people are aroused to the knowledge and results of letting the child use the cigarette, and bringing up a generation unit, morally, mentally and physically to uphold the ideals of America," she declared.

BRINGING UP FATHER

VOICES PLEA FOR PROPOSED PENSION LAW IN ADDRESS

Judge William Kuntz, of Zanesville, addressed members of Xenia Aerie, No. 1659, Fraternal Order of Eagles here Friday night on the subject of the proposed old age pension law, which will be voted on at the polls, next month.

Judge Kuntz talked in place of William J. O'Reilly, ex-Congressman from Missouri, who was unable to be present. His address was a plea for voters to cast their ballots in favor of the proposed law at the November election.

Judge Kuntz said there are 100 inmates of the infirmary in his home county, and the institution is kept up at an annual cost of $35,000. With the old age pension law in effect, he said, the expense of maintaining an infirmary would be reduced to half that amount.

The speaker said many people had the idea the pension law would be a burden to the tax payer whereas, he said, it would actually eliminate some of the taxes they have to pay.

If the law is passed, he said, it will keep up the fight to do so until it does pass, he said, having been successful in passing the widow's pension and the workman's compensation act.

Judge Kuntz said he would like to see Xenia Aerie with 600 members by June 1, 1924.

CALL MEETING OF COUNTY WORKERS

A "get-together" meeting of all county Sunday School workers, will be held at the First M. E. Church, Thursday, October 18.

A good program has been prepared including stereotyped slides, by W. E. Boileau, general manager of the People's Railway company of Dayton, depicting Bible Class work.

A discussion of general plans of county work will take place before Mr. Boileau's pictures.

Music will be furnished by the County High School orchestra, and a male quartette from Wilberforce University.

Every Sunday School is asked to send a representative to the meeting including the superintendent, pastor and officers. A covered dish supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

FARM NEWS OF GREENE COUNTY

CO-OPERATIVE WHEAT MARKETING ON LARGE SCALE DECIDED BY FARM LEADERS

Lifting the wheat farmer from his present slough of financial difficulties and low prices to the level of the cotton and tobacco growers by the same means that lifted them—co-operative marketing on a national scale—was decided upon this week in Chicago by representative cooperative and agricultural leaders called into conference, as the best means of correcting the present national situation in wheat.

Survey of the six principle wheat growing states, with the view of working through present facilities where they exist and creating them where they are not, was voted by the conference, which resolved itself into a permanent committee and elected an executive committee, with former Governor Frank O. Lowden as chairman to carry on the work.

Robert W. Bingham of Louisville, a leader in the tobacco cooperative, marketing movement and present chairman of the National Council of Farmers' Cooperative Marketing Associations, who called the conference, invited such cooperative leaders as Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, Aaron Sapiero of New York and San Francisco, organizer of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association and numerous other cooperative groups; George C. Jewett, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers Association and others.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation; Frank Mondell, another director, and M. G. Toth of the bureau of agricultural economics, appointed by President Coolidge to investigate the wheat situation, sat in the conference and following its conclusion declared they saw in co-operative marketing the real solution in the wheat problem and assured the committee of the support of the administration and of the government agencies that may be able to help the plan.

Declaring the wheat situation to be almost the only blemish on an otherwise prosperous national agricultural situation and nothing that the brightest spots in this situation were the cotton and tobacco growers and the California fruit growers, where co-operative marketing is at its best. Mr. Bingham called the conference to decide if such methods could improve the wheat farmers' situation.

Surveying the situation will be the first work of the national executive committee, which numbers in its membership, besides Chairman Lowden, Mr. Bingham, Mr. Williams, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, W. C. Settle of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. Jewett and Don Wallace, editor of The Farmer, Herman Stein, associate editor of The Prairie Farmer, has been appointed executive secretary and work will be started on the committee's program within the next few days.

Mr. Meyer and Mr. M. Mondell, in attending this conference, began an investigating trip which is expected to cover every wheat producing state, being undertaken at the request of President Coolidge with a view of finding a way improving the situation.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

DAVE LOGAN DECLARES HIMSELF

Chapter LII.

My opportunity to speak to Dave came sooner than I expected. He came in at tea time, found me alone. Paul had left for Canada that morning, Joan was in town, and Laura had gone boating with some of her young friends. I welcomed him gladly, taking no pains to hide my pleasure in his visit.

"You have neglected us, Dave," I said. "We have missed you."

"Have you missed me, Ruby?" he asked bending an inscrutable look upon me.

"Of course I have! Now you are here you must stay to dinner. Paul is away, Joan in town, but Laura will soon be in and she will be glad to see you," I explained, as I seated myself at the tea-table.

Laura is like you, Ruby, said, then: "never mind the tea, I will talk to you."

"But you can talk and have your tea at the same time," I replied wondering at his brusqueness.

He waved the cup away.

"Ruby, why do you suppose I have been coming here—coming where you were all these years?" he asked.

"Why, how terribly serious you are!" I said, a bit nervously, his manner, unusual, as if he were holding himself in check, reacting upon me.

"I mean to be serious. You haven't answered my question: Why do you suppose I have been coming where you were?"

"Because we are very good friends!" I responded lightly. "And because you are fond of Paul. Do have a cup of tea, Dave. It will cheer you up."

Again he waved the cup aside.

"Ruby, it has come to a show down. I have loved you ever since I first saw you. I think I almost got over it during the years you hid from me; and afterward, when you seemed to have lost all your youth, and was so worn and broken by your struggle. But I hadn't gotten over it and as soon as I commenced seeing you again my feeling for you came back, stronger than ever. I haven't always been a good man, Ruby, but for your sake I shall try to be a good one now—if you will give me your promise to come to be, be mine. I know you love me. You have given me a thousand reasons for knowing it. Your delight in seeing me, your confidence when worried, in many ways you have shown you cared and Ruby I have—"

"Stop!" I cried at last. I had been too dazed, too shocked to interrupt, hoping I did not understand, that he meant only he wanted to me my friend. But now his meaning was too clear, and horrified I cried out in protest.

"You don't realize what you are saying, what you are doing. It is hard to believe you would deliberately insult me, but you are. I love my husband, Dave, and even if I didn't I am his wife."

"You owe him nothing. What has he ever done for you? Let you slave for his children, taken life easy while it was so hard for you, and being untrue for Ruby, he never has been true to you—never."

"I'll not believe that! Paul may not have always done right—oh, how I regretted ever talking of my anxieties to Logan! But I'll not believe him false to his vows."

"I can prove it, not in one instance but in many. Paul is a—"

"Stop!" I interrupted again. "I won't listen to another word!"

"Very well, Ruby, I'll say nothing more on that subject, but Paul never cared for you honestly—"

"What do you mean? Paul is working hard, is being successful, I am proud of him. He had his time of weakness, but he is older now, has steadied down—and oh, Dave! I thought you—you were his best friend. How can you talk like this?"

I feel as if I were having some horrible nightmare!

"Why did you think I befriended him, a weakling whom I despised—only to be near you, with you, and to make life easier for you. My money let me do that and—she is dead, so you—"

"Your—money. You mean that Paul—borrowed—now?" I interrupted.

"Now, he doesn't need to now. But he is not making his money in a way to please you, Ruby, but perhaps you know and condone."

"What do you mean? You shall tell me," I exclaimed but Logan shook his head, refusing to speak.

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The Yankees and the Giants had better trade ball parks for the regular season.

Coming back to the National League yard in the fourth game of the private World Series this afternoon, the Yankees evened the series count and again put the teams at scratch by banging out an 8 to 4 victory over the McGraw men.

Knocking two pitchers out of the box in the second inning, the Huggins outfit piled up an impressive lead that was never headed. In the meantime Shawkey was not doing any spell binding stunts with the old agate, but he had good support that saved him at crucial times and he also possessed the happy faculty of pitching well with men on bases.

The big inning was started off by Pipp, he with the cut-glass ankle, who singled to center. Ward also singled and Schang was safe when John Scott fumbled his effort, filling the bases. E. Scott singled to left scoring Pipp and Ward. Schang taking third, while John Scott was recalled in favor of Rosie Ryan. Shawkey knocked a sacrifice fly to Stengel on which Schang scored. Witt doubled to left scoring Scott, and Dugan grounded to Grech who retired Witt. Ruth walked. R. Meusel tripled to left scoring Dugan and Ruth and McQuillan replaced Ryan. Pipp filed to Stengel to end the inning.

In the third Ward walked and Schang sacrificed. Scott singled to left center sending Ward to third from where he scored on Witt's double to left. The Yanks added another in the fourth. Ruth walked and Bob Meusel fanned. Pipp singled to left, sending Ruth to third from where he scored on Ward's single. Schang and E. Scott filed out.

FORMER OFFICIAL OF GOVERNMENT IS INDICTED ON CHARGE

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 13.—On an indictment returned against him at the June term of United District Court at Elkins, W. Va. charging conspiracy with officers of the United States Customs Service to defraud the United States by entering into manipulations to make possible the sale of approximately $2,000,000,000 in surplus war materials to the company at prices far below the real value, &c, Ernest C. Morse, 3613 Kendall avenue, Hyde Park, vice president in charge of sales of the Triumph Electric Company, Cincinnati, is under arrest today.

He was director of sales of the War Department, appointed by former Secretary Newton D. Baker, and the government placed in his charge the sale of surplus materials including the equipment which he is alleged to have permitted the harness company to purchase at prices far below value.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. LUCRETIA McCASLIN

Mrs. Lucretia McCaslin, 79, mother of Mrs. L. L. Taylor, of Yellow Springs, died at her daughter's home there Friday night at six o'clock. Death was due to apoplexy, from which she had been confined to her bed for the last four years.

Mrs. McCaslin came to Yellow Springs from New Lexington, Ohio, four and one-half years ago to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor. Her husband preceded her in death, but she is survived by three sons, C. H. and C. W. McCaslin of near New Lexington, D. E. McCaslin, superintendent of schools at St. Louis, Mo., and one daughter, Mrs. Taylor. She also leaves a brother, Whitney Carroll, of New Lexington and a sister, Mrs. Ellen Bush, of Columbus. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Brief funeral services will be held at the Taylor home in Yellow Springs Sunday afternoon and the body will be taken to New Lexington Monday morning, where burial will be made.

FORD TO RETURN PROFITS SHARE

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13.—Henry Ford will return approximately $1,750,000 to the government, his share of the Ford Motor Company's profits on war contracts, it was learned today.

The Ford Motor Company made a total net profit of $7,000,000 on $90,000,000 worth of contracts and Ford received slightly more than half of the $7,000,000.

Deducting war taxes, his profit was $1,750,000 and this he intends to return, it was said.

Ford does not speak for other Ford stockholders.

Coolidge Administration "Four Square" For Enforcement of Prohibition

Washington, Oct. 13.—Any uncertainty that may have existed as to the position of the Coolidge administration with respect to the enforcement of the national prohibition act was swept aside here today.

The "bone dry" attitude of the administration was revealed officially by Major Roy A. Haines, the federal prohibition commissioner, in an address before more than a thousand men and women gathered here in a conference to discuss law enforcement problems, with special reference to the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment.

"President Coolidge stands 'four square' for enforcement of the prohibition law," Commissioner Haines declared. "He is no less wholehearted regarding this matter than the late President Harding. The department of Justice is also in earnest."

It was the understanding among the religious, civic and social leaders composing the conference that the announcement of the prohibition commissioner was made with the full approval of the president.

Promising to tell "the truth about the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act," Commissioner Haines said that the law was now being enforced effectively but that "100 per cent enforcement" would not be possible for at least ten years.

"Adverse public opinion," which was said to exist mainly on the eastern seaboard was blamed by Haines for many of the problems which confront the government in keeping the country dry.

"The eighteenth amendment was the result of a great moral and religious fervor," Haines said. "The spirit which actuated the sponsors of this law certainly must be kept alive after the law has been written into the statutes."

The prohibition law and the narcotic laws are, and perhaps the most typical of American laws on our statute books. They represent a determination upon the part of the people to make certain restrictions upon their own personal habits for the good of the greatest number."

Haines charged the "liquor interests" with carrying on a tremendous propaganda to make the country believe that the prohibition law cannot be enforced.

"These minority forces," he said, "have not yet awakened to a realization that prohibition is now in the fundamental law of the land by the 18th amendment to the constitution. These forces, however, do not represent the great mass of the American people—those who comprise the bone and sinew of our body politics."

Haines declared that the charge of wholesale violations is unfounded, but had a complaint to register before enforcement was made more difficult because some of the people did not have the "proper patriotic attitude" toward the law.

BELIEVE JEALOUSY CAUSE OF SHOOTING

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 13.—An abandoned automobile is the only clue that the police have been able to find in their investigation of the shooting of Milton L. Maas, chemical manufacturer of New York, at the home of the beautiful and wealthy widow, Mrs. Ida M. Leslie.

Maas, who is president of the Maas and Waldstein Chemical company, is in the Stamford hospital with a fighting chance for life. Two bullets struck him down, one passing through the wall of the abdomen and the other plowing through the left shoulder. The police have been unable to establish a motive for the shooting, unless, they said, it might be jealousy. Mrs. Leslie told the officers she was seized by one man on her own lawn and that when she screamed and Maas came running to her assistance a second man fired the shots that struck Maas. Then, she said, they ran away.

WEEKS REPLIES TO ACCUSATION MADE BY FORD

Declares Motor King Made Reckless Statements in His Charges

Washington, Oct. 13.—Henry Ford's statement assailing Secretary of War Weeks in connection with the Muscle Shoals controversy was read with interest here.

Coming coincidentally with Ford's tacit approval of the filing of a petition to make him a candidate of the Progressive party in Nebraska presidential preference primary, it carried a shock which aroused political circles.

The attack on Secretary Weeks was the overshadowing topic of discussion at the cabinet meetings. It sent Mr. Weeks scurrying to the White House to consult with the president and his official advisers, because of the grave accusations against him personally and the reflection upon the government through him as the highest official involved. The possible political effect on Ford's charges, should they take root in the minds of the farmers for whom they were designed, instantly was recognized on all hands.

The war secretary was considerably agitated, but declined to comment until he had laid the matter before the president and cabinet and got their advice as to what best should be done. The decision, after an earnest discussion, was that Mr. Weeks should issue a formal reply. The secretary went back to his office and prepared a statement. He went over the drafting of his defense with the president, who gave it his approval.

In his statement the secretary treats the attack as personal upon him. His retort is that Ford's statement was "filled with reckless assertions," but he softens the return blow by suggesting that because of his reliance upon other persons "in the conduct of so many enterprises," Ford "probably is not himself possessed of the full facts of the situation."

Mr. Weeks asserts that he never has opposed "Mr. Ford's securing use of this water power or any other equipment we have, provided he is able to give such assurance of its being devoted to this particular purpose (the manufacture of cheap fertilizer) as will satisfy congress and properly protect the public interest."

Mr. Ford's charge was that Secretary Weeks, prompted by political considerations and corporation lawyers, has prevented him from obtaining the Muscle Shoals properties from the government.

Secretary Weeks' statement intimates future action. In ending, the secretary says he will not continue a newspaper discussion of the subject, "but if necessary shall place all facts before a proper tribunal."

In quarters close to the secretary a threat of a libel suit was seen in the statement. Others interpreted it as meaning the secretary was willing to air the whole case before a congressional investigation.

GOVERNOR DEFERS ACTION IN CANTON

Columbus, Oct. 13.—Governor Donahay, in a message to the people of Canton, informed them of charges filed with him against E. E. Curtis, safety director of that city. The governor announced the charges had been filed in the heat of a mayoralty campaign and that he would not go into them until after election. "I do not want to use my office as a political vehicle, influence, or impediment of any kind in a local campaign," the governor wrote.

ENTIRE BLOCK IS FIRE THREATENED

Canton, O., Oct. 13.—Fire here today destroyed three dwellings and damaged the Lyceum theatre and the Stark Dry Goods Company building to the extent of about 50,000.

Firemen's quick work saved the block in which the buildings are located. Ten houses were ablaze at one time due to the intensive heat from the buildings destroyed but heavy streams of water played on the structures just beginning to burn, halted the fire's progress.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG NAMED

Clara Kimball Young

Clara Kimball Young, noted motion picture actress, has been accused by Joseph Sachs, millionaire Pasadena (Cal.) merchant, of having persuaded his wife, Mrs. Carolyn Sachs, to leave him. Charges and counter charges of gay moonlight bathing parties on Santa Monica's beaches were set forth in his answer to his wife's suit for separation.

BRING GOVERNMENT WITNESSES IN CASE IN WEST VIRGINIA

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 13.—The government was today to bring witness after witness to weld the links in the chain of evidence in the "alcohol case," the first of wet conspiracy trials to reach trial in United States court here and involving nine defendants from Wheeling, Martins Ferry and Columbus, Ohio. The case centers over the bringing of a carload of alcohol from Hermitage, Tenn., here and is similar to recent cases at Toledo and Dayton. But a short session of course is expected today, at which the government will renew its fight to have the jury taken to Martins Ferry to view properties there involved by the evidence.

The defense has objected to the trip, inasmuch as it took the jury from the northern district of West Virginia into southern district of Ohio, or without the jurisdiction of the court. Employees of the B. and O. railroad gave vital government evidence when they testified that S. K. Johnson, former Wheeling treasurer and one of the defendants had paid the freight charges on the alcohol sent here. It was the first real implication of the former city official in the transactions that involved the sale of 50,000 gallons of alcohol, through previous evidence has disclosed the fluid was stored in his warehouse. It is anticipated the government will rest its case next Monday.

ATTORNEY FIRED BY J. C. WALTON

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 13.—Aldrich Blake, counselor to Governor J. C. Walton, was handed his notice of dismissal. His discharge followed a heated conference behind barred doors. "I was notified of my dismissal," Blake said when asked if it was true he had been dismissed. "I have nothing further to say," he added.

The action of the governor in dismissing Blake confirms reports of a serious rupture between the governor and his advisers, who piloted him through his war against the Ku Klux Klan. The governor is now facing impeachment by the legislature.

IMPLICATE ANOTHER IN ALLEGED CRIME

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 13.—A fourth person has been implicated in the alleged $100,000 blackmail plot against John L. Bushnell, Springfield banker, it was learned here. Federal agents are in Springfield seeking a man believed to be an accomplice. Three persons are already in federal custody in connection with the Bushnell case. They are: Don Osborn, Hollywood movie director; Rose Putnam, Osborn's niece, and Albert S. Harris, alias Mills, of Hollywood.

KILLS PLAYMATE

Toledo, Oct. 13.—Albert Beadle, 9, was shot and killed by his playmate, Frank Jawariki, 8. The latter pointed a shotgun at young Beadle and, playfully calling "hands up," pulled the trigger. The lad said he didn't know the gun was loaded.

STRESEMANN IS NOW VIRTUALLY FULL DICTATOR

Reichstag Passes "Authorization" Act by Big Majority

IS FATEFUL DAY

Red Agent Reported To Be in County—Remains In Hiding

Frankfurt On The Main, Germany, Oct. 13.—Food riots broke out here today. Shops were besieged and were closed up to prevent looting. Demonstrations were made against high prices and unemployment.

Hochst, Germany, Oct. 13.—Three persons were killed and many wounded in riots here today.

Widespread riots took place in various parts of Germany throughout Friday in which it was estimated that from 10 to 15 persons were killed and about 300 injured. Some were demonstrations by unemployed. Others were bread riots while in Saxony the Communists conducted demonstrations.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—By a vote of 316 to 24, the Reichstag today passed the "authorization act" conferring dictatorial powers upon the Stresemann government.

It was reported that Chancellor Stresemann would dissolve the Reichstag, taking complete responsibility for all government decisions. The Reichstag voting was conducted with cards. Supporters of the dictatorship voted with white cards, the opponents used red cards while the abstainers had blue cards.

This was a fateful day for the republic. Early in the morning the chancellor warned political leaders that if he bill did not get the necessary two thirds to enact it. There was an atmosphere of tension and hostility when the Reichstag convened after its recess from Thursday. Stresemann argued that dissolution of the Reichstag would be legal according to article 48 of the Weimar constitution.

However, President Ebert, at the last minute, appealed to the chancellor not to take this extreme measure unless every other means had failed.

Before the balloting began leaders of the German People's Party feared that the Socialist Democrats would throw their strength with the Communists, who opposed the authorization. Already the Socialists have entered into partnership with the Communists in Saxony, where they dominate the government and a similar coalition is under way in Thuringia.

It is learned that Karl Radek, chief propaganda agent of the Moscow government has suddenly reappeared in Germany but is keeping in hiding. The German communist party has issued orders to all members to "keep themselves in readiness for possible action not later than Monday."

A curious feature of the Reichstag battle was that the chief opponents of the dictatorship law were Nationalists and Communists—two political factions that hold directly opposite views regarding government.

Either party would establish a ruthless dictatorship if it got the supreme power. Before the voting it appeared that the fate of the measure rested in the hands of 37 Socialist deputies, composing the Socialist minority and appeals were made to them by both sides.

Celsenkirchen, Oct. 13.—A gigantic demonstration in favor of a separate Rhenish republic, independent of the balance of Germany, took place here today. All the Ruhr is excited and nervous over the future for it is feared that proclamation of an independent state may lead to widespread fighting and bloodshed.

LEGION CHAPLAIN AND EX-JAMESTOWN PRIEST LENDS AID

The Rev. William P. O'Connor, of Cincinnati, National Chaplain of the American Legion and former pastor of St. Augustine's Church, at Jamestown, distinguished himself by service at the scene of the hold up of the first section of Southern Pacific Train, No. 13, robbed by four bandits at the mouth of a tunnel in the Siakiyou Mountains, in California, Thursday, it has been learned.

The Rev. Father O'Connor was in the second section of the train, which was unharmed, on his way to San Francisco to attend the national convention of the Legion. When the first section was held up, the bandits killed the trainmen, dynamited and fired the mail car, and stole valuable mail.

The second section was stopped on the other side of the tunnel. With Joseph Sparks, national chairman of the Legion Rehabilitation Committee, the Rev. Father O'Connor scrambled over the steep, rugged hill between his train and the scene of the hold-up. As soon as he arrived on the other side he was led to where the bodies of the bandits' victims lay.

Over the bodies of S. L. Bates, 55, engineer, Marvin Sens, 23, fireman, and Coyle O. Johnson, 40, a brakeman, and while passengers stood with bared heads bowed and the flames from the blazing mail car sounded a steady requiem, the Rev. Father O'Connor said prayers over the dead. The body of Elwyn E. Dougherty, 35, was in the wrecked mail car.

After his spiritual duties were completed, the Rev. Father O'Connor peeled off his coat and worked side by side with trainmen and other passengers to extinguish the fire in the mail car. He then aided in quelling an incipient panic among passengers on the section that had been held up.

Atton Covell, 15, Marshfield, Ore., confessed murdering his stepmother, claiming he had been directed to commit the crime by his helplessly crippled uncle, Arthur Covell. The uncle is a nationally known astrologer. The boy said his uncle read the planets and ordered the murder.

Five persons are dead and four others are perhaps fatally ill at Pana, Ill., as a result of drinking poison moonshine whisky, according to city police.

Fire at the Gadsden (Ala.) car works caused $300,000 damage and threw 700 men out of employment.

Twelve persons were killed by an explosion in a hunting goods store at Moscow, Russia.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Often Means
You Have Not Been Drinking
Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such effort overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The average cost to banks of cashing a check is between 3 and 4 cents.

This means the total handling expense involved in cashing and collecting from the bank it is drawn on.

The total cost of between 3 and 4 cents a check is usually divided between two banks. The bank on which the check is drawn sustains an expense of about two cents for the handling and printing. The bank which cashes the check has a cost of 1 cent if the check is drawn on a local bank. If it is an out-of-town check, the cost, without interest, will come to approximately 2 cents, because more handling is required, and postage and stationery must be added.

These costs are not the same for every bank or every check. They are the average results found by an analysis of bank expenses over a period of several years.

He was hurled, temporarily paralyzed and the joints of his body horribly sprained and twisted. The bolt disproved the ancient fallacy that iron is an attraction, for McQueen was struck within a few feet of a steel rail, and near a number of fences and steel towers. Yet lightning rod salesmen still have a big following.

The day is not distant now when gold, helium, silver, cobalt and hydrogen will be manufactured as easily as steel is manufactured today. Gold is doomed. It were better that the nations of the world abandon the absurd gold standard now and revert to a standard based on radium. All metals no matter of what classification, have a life of their own which like the human life, leads inevitably to death. The metal which has the most intense life is radium.

Radium is king of metals—not gold. Today we know that it is possible with radium to manufacture helium, and it is certain that tomorrow we shall be able with helium to manufacture gold.—Dr. E. P. Roger, of the Faculty of Science of Paris.

Styles

BY LENORE

For musicales, for teas informal dinners and for the theater, there is nothing smarter, for so simple a dress, than this model of black satin. Pekin blue crepe makes the lower section of the skirt and is trimmed with inch-wide bands of squirrel.

The pattern is cut on chemise lines.

with extended shoulders, finished with blue. Instead of sleeves, and an inset stripe of the blue material running down the center of the front.

Worth Knowing

A blue crepe frock worn by a bob-ed-haired girl on Fifth Avenue, was exceedingly slim and belted, wide hands of blue and green crepe forming a deep collar at the back and a border at the bottom.

Sport dresses of camel's hair are new. In separate skirts, too, camel's hair is popular, both in solid colors and in striped and plaid effects.

Dresses for evening are either sleeveless or where there are sleeves, they are full length.

Tunics are introduced on imported dresses, but they are confined to the front so that the back may remain flat.

Coats and suits may be made distinctive with mousquetaire sleeves—that is, sleeves whose cuffs are snug at the wrist but flare out as they reach the elbow.

MAN, 27, MARRIES WOMAN OVER 60

Washington, C. H., Oct. 13.—At the Probate Judge's office Thursday morning, one of the most unusual marriages in the history of the county occurred when Bryson Gibson, 27, laborer, and Mrs. Rachel Elizabeth Carmean, 63, were united in marriage. The marriage record shows that the bride could not write, and that she was 63 years of age on April 2, 1922, and was born at Dodsonville, Ohio. The records also show that the groom was 27 years old, May 16, 1923, and is a son of Nimit Gibson and Betty Sawyer Gibson.

It was stated by the daughter that the bride has five daughters and three sons married. The woman was with out a home other than that provided by the sons and daughters.

PRUGH-WAGNER

NUPITALS FRIDAY
Miss Mildred Wolf Prugh, only daughter of Mrs. Daniel Kieffer Prugh, of East Church Street, became the bride of Mr. Melvin Leroy Wagner, of Chicago, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Prugh home.

The Rev. V. F. Brown, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, officiated at the service, assisted by Dr. George Freeman Craig, of East Chicago, Indiana, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Dr. Craig is pastor of the Methodist Church at East Chicago.

Garlands of waxy Southern smilax were twined over the walls of the east room of the Prugh home where the vows were read. The greenery was also wound around the staircase and decked the rooms.

An improvised altar was arranged at a large French mirror, with ferns and tall potted plants. Two stately cathedral candles were placed at either side of the altar, alongside two baskets of white chrysanthemums. The entire scene was lighted with white candles in crystal holders.

Seventy-five guests witnessed the ceremony. The service opened with a piano number "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, played by Mrs. George Freeman Craig. Mrs. Craig blended into the wedding march from Lohengrin which marked the opening of the bridal procession.

Little Daniel Prugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Prugh, this city, nephew of the bride, led the procession down the stairs, as ring bearer. He wore a black velvet suit and carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Gowned in turquoise blue crepe satin, Miss Marjorie Flynn, as maid of honor, walked next. Her gown was featured with an ornament of rainbow hues and she wore silver slippers. Her flowers were a corsage of Columbia roses and smilax.

Miss Julia Wolf, bride's maid, who came next, wore shell pink crepe satin with a crystal ornament and bow caught on the side. She wore a gold band in her hair, with footwear of gold. She also carried a shower of Columbia roses and smilax.

The bride walked with her mother, who gave her in marriage. The bridegroom was in ivory crepe satin, trimmed with Rosalyn lace, with a simple neck line of lace. The gown was draped in front to the sides, with lace caught from each side, which fell to the floor. Panels of satin fell from the shoulder to the train. The handsome lace was edged with seed pearls. A tulle veil was caught with a head band of the Rosalyn lace and orange blossoms and fell to the end of the train. The bride's bouquet was a showy arrangement of white roses and fern.

Mrs. Prugh was gowned in black Spanish lace over orchid metal cloth with a side train. She carried a shower of Columbia roses.

Mr. Phillip W. Prugh, brother of the bride as best man, entered from an adjoining room with the bridegroom. The single ring ceremony was solemnized.

Following a Wellesley College custom, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar, was played by Mrs. Craig, after the ceremony, and during the seating of the guests at dinner.

The bride's table was centered with a lovely bouquet of pink roses, with pink candles in crystal holders at each corner, and at the smaller tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner left Friday night for a wedding trip. Mrs. Wagner's traveling toilette consisted of a beaver suit of soft taupe brown with a beaver collar. Her coat was fashioned Mandarin style and a blouse to match completed the outfit. Her hat was also of brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will reside in Chicago. Mr. Wagner is associated with the Chicago Tribune with the Editorial Art Staff and has also a column as theater critic. He graduated in 1912 from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Wagner was a graduate in 1919 of Wellesley College. She taught economics two years in Central High School, this city. She is a member of the Senior Woman's Club.

OUR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

Every year in the United States there are born thousands of babies with some slight deformity which will make them cripples for life unless corrective measures are taken in childhood. Sometimes they are crippled by some slight injury. Most of them are curable.

Medical science has made wonderful progress in the past few years. The war taught surgeons to perform wonders in relieving the results of injuries and in restoring cripples to perfection and usefulness. Almost any injury can be relieved except the actual replacing of a lost limb.

To the thoughtful man or woman there can be no more pitiful object in the world than a little child doomed to go through life a cripple, when proper attention by the proper surgeon would restore them to health and usefulness and happiness. It is the inherent right of every child to have a fair chance in the world and the Rotary Clubs of the United States have undertaken the task of seeing that every child is given this chance.

Clinics for crippled children conducted by the best surgeons in the country are being held or will be held wherever there is a Rotary Club. When a child is pronounced curable, or possibly curable, that child is sent to the particular surgeon who specializes in the particular illness, injury or deformity from which that child is suffering. Money is no consideration where the restoration of a child to health and strong manhood or womanhood is concerned. There are plenty of people with big hearts and open purses for such work.

The chief obstacle in the way of the successful work of Rotary Clubs is the reluctance of parents to report their crippled children. They are afraid of operations, afraid their child will be separated from them.

Ignorance, poverty and pride are the chief obstacles which the Rotarians have to overcome. All of these obstacles must be removed, and they will be wherever the Rotarians can locate a crippled child. The parents will be assured that if their child is sent to a hospital it will be only with their consent and accompanied by one or both the parents. Poverty is no disgrace, but it is a disgrace to permit either poverty or pride to doom a child to a cripple for life.

An appeal has been issued to the public to help in this work by giving or sending to any Rotarian the name and address of crippled children. When a child is reported, a Rotarian will visit the parents and try to convince them it is their duty to give the child a chance.

If you know of a crippled child you will be aiding this great work by immediately reporting that child to some Rotarian.

HATS OFF TO THE "TARS."

From Cincinnati Enquirer: "America has reason to feel pride in her marines, for first in war and first in peace is the record of this gallant corps, whose exceptional history is too little known to the average citizen. Just now our Asiatic fleet has been thanked by the Japanese government for the great aid extended after the earthquake. And only recently speculation was rife as to how soon the guns of the fleet would answer those of the empire war armada in major conflict! The earth scarcely had ceased to tremble in the islands before our marines were on the spot and at work. Always they bear the brunt of first responsibility and danger. In this case it was not bullets they had to face, but widespread disaster, human sufferings. At once they began the work of rescue and rehabilitation. They built a great bakery, an automobile repair shop, straightened out transportation and cleaned things up generally. The marines were the first to get ashore at Yokohama, just as they always have been first ashore in any crisis, great or small. In more recent history this was so in Cuba, in the Philippines, in Mexico, in Europe. Every corner of the earth has known the marines as the pioneers in war or peace, always ready, always to be relied upon."

The following directions are for a knitted sleeveless jacket which is plain white in the back, and striped white and green in the front:
Striped Sleeveless Jacket, size 36:
Materials are five balls of white shet lan floss, two balls green shetlan floss (both two-ply), and one pair of four and one-half bone knitting needles.

Back: With the white yarn cast on 90 stitches. K 6 ribs. Work in stockinette st. (stockinette stitch is: Knit one row, purl one row) for 108 rows. Bind off five sts. at each side. Decrease one stitch each side every second row, five times. Continue working stockinette stitch for 40 rows. On purled side * P 23 sts., K 24 sts., P 23 sts. K back plain. Repeat these two rows until there are five ribs in back neckband. Bind off 12 center stitches. Separate work.

Front: Row One: Attach green thread on outside edge of work and knit to within six inches of front. Drop green and with white knit remaining six stitches. Row Two: Knit six stitches in white, pass green thread under waist to hold border and body to work together, and knit remainder in green. Row Three: With white, knit over and back.

These two stripes constitute the pattern of the front. On neck edge, increase in first stitch inside white border every green rib 12 times, then once every rib for five successive times. Increase for underarm to correspond with back. Make front 60 ribs from underarm to plain border of six white ribs on bottom. On left front, start pattern on neck side of work. The jacket now has a white band down the edge of each side-front (on the right side band white loops should be crocheted, and on the left side band buttons should be sewed; there is also a white band at the extreme bottom of each side-front. To carry out this edge-band effect, cast on six stitches and knit plain back and forth until you have a band long

Amarillo, Texas.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would ache so that I could not get up, and it would almost kill me and I would have cramps. I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keephouse and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. Robinson, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Tex.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes, as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial. Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

THE SICK GOLFER

I shuddered when I heard him say:
"I am not feeling well today."
I hoped he'd not propose a bet.
I've never licked a sick man yet.

And as we stood upon the tee
A sense of fear came over me—
I heard him talk of aspirin,
And knew I had no chance to win.

I've tackled men with fever high,
And golfers just about to die.
Nervitis patients, men with boils,
And never gathered in the spoils.

I've played them when they couldn't see,
Sat down and moaned at every tee.
Sobbed dolefully their list of ills,
And stopped the game to swallow pills.

I've tackled men with swollen knees
And men with every known disease,

Men who could hardly use their legs,
And never taken home the eggs.

I've played with men whose backs were lame,
Men who'd come out to play the game.

Against the doctor's stern command,
So weak they said, they couldn't stand.

I've played them after nights of woe
When indignation laid them low;
And when much younger, and less wise,
With golfers ill I'd sympathize.

So sorry for their plight I felt,
I could not give the ball a belt—
And then waked up too late to see
Those poor sick men outriv'ring me.

And so I sigh to hear him say:
"I am not feeling well today!"
Though countless invalids I've met,
I've never licked a sick man yet!

Today's Talk

THE SOFT ANSWER

You are familiar with the quotation from the Bible: "A soft answer turneth away wrath."

There seems to be quite a general opinion that in order to assert one's rights, it is necessary for a man to "fight back." It all depends. And what, for, anyway? What are one's rights?

"I have lived long enough to note in observation over a wide number of years and the occasions for wrath—that is sometimes known as righteous wrath—are very rare.

It seems to me that a thing so sensitive as the human heart should always be respected by a strong man or a strong woman.

A hurt in the heart leaves a deeper scar than any possible hurt to the body.

I know that it pays to get used to giving the soft answer. It's a much more powerful weapon than the weapon of wrath and anger. The old adage that "whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad," has oungent truth to it.

Human life is a plastic affair. The cut of a word may be more potent than that of any sword.

There is only one instance in the life of Jesus where it is recorded that he lost his temper and that was when he drove the thieves out of the temple. In contrast, what sublime moments were those when He stood before Pilate who so unjustly accused Him. Did he not have all right upon His side? And yet what did He say? The story says that He answered not a word.

It takes more patience and heroism than Job's ever had for one to give soft answers between heart thrusts, when one's faith is being battered and one's dreams being swept aside. Faith and dreams are not wholly fantastic.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath." It does more. It binds you tighter to you. It makes you bigger. It sweetens the atmosphere of the world. It is a contribution to the beauty of any character.

New York, Oct. 13.—The third game of the world series was won by the Giants yesterday when "Casey" Stengel hit a home run into the right field stands. This tally proved enough to decide the contest, as the Yankees failed to score.

The blow came in the seventh inning. "Irish" Meusel was the first of the Giants to face "Deacon" Jones in that frame and "Deacon" pitched to him with confidence born of the easy manner in which he had disposed of the heavy sluggers of the National league champions up to that moment. "Irish" Meusel hit a long fly to his tall brother, Bob, in deep left. Then came "Casey" Stengel, with his queer, sideway batting position. The guttural voice of the bulky Nallin, the American league umpire, called a strike, then two balls on "Casey." On the next pitch from Jones "Casey" lashed at the ball. "Lashing" is the only way you can describe "Casey's" swing. The next instant the ball was sailing over Pipp's head and into the packed right field bleachers, and Stengel trotted around the bases and scored what proved to be the winning run.

The pitcher's battle went on to a finish, dull and drab for the Yankees, but most pleasing to the Giants. It was their second victory in the series, giving them the lead two games to one.

Habe Ruth got one hit and twice passed by Nehf, pitching to the big slugger with extreme caution, and with many a preliminary glance at McGraw on the Giants' bench. Pipp was injured in a slide to second and Ruth finished the game at first.

Nehf pitched well, but no better than "Deacon" Jones. The Yanks out-hit the Giants 6 to 4. Throw out "Casey" Stengel's mighty blow and the game would have gone on until nightfall.

Aside from Stengel's drive Heine Groh's fielding was the outstanding feature of the game.

A very interesting fact on the series to date is that the games have been won and lost on home runs. Stengel's homer in the ninth inning of the first game won for the Giants and he did it yesterday in the seventh. And Thursday three homers by the Yankees, two by Ruth, told the tale. Each team has now made three homers.

A new record for receipts and attendance was established. The official figures were as follows: Attendance, 62,430; total receipts, $201,072; players' share, $82,546.72; club owners' share, $68,364.43; commission's share, $30,160.80.

SEIZED BY PRIVATE INTERESTS

Washington, Oct. 13.—The entire naval oil reserve lands of the United States have been allocated to private interests for exploitation, imperiling the political and national future and independence of America. This will be the outstanding fact revealed by the probe into the leasing of Teapot Dome by the senate committee on public lands during the hearings scheduled to begin Monday.

WEST MILTON WINS SECOND GAME FROM XEIA GRID TEAM

Xenia Central High football team lost its third game of the season and its fourth in three years to West Milton High at West Milton Friday afternoon, the Miami County team running up 19 points to none garnered by the Xenia eleven.

It was the second defeat in as many weeks at the hands of West Milton, resulting from weak tackling and line play, and lack of consistency on offense. The team's attacking power continues to improve when used properly but the line play was soft and erratic.

Often charging West Milton forwards would break up plays and attempted passes behind the line and the Xenia forwards seemed helpless in stopping their plunges and off-tackle plays, chief ground gainers for the West Milton gang. Out of the play of the Xenia team stood the performance of Bill Horner, switched from guard to center for the conflict and who ranged on both sides of the line with utter abandon, chasing down tacklers and covering punts.

The backfield play was featured by the work of Holton and Zell, two husky backs, who are showing rapid improvement in the offensive game. Zell, after a week's lay-off from practice, came back in great shape and Holton's plunging was a revelation. Captain Fuller also played well in the backfield until relieved. Brumbaugh was again the big ground gainer for West Milton and the Xenia wing men had considerable difficulty in stopping him.

Carl Burgner's eleven showed its true form in the first quarter when an aggressive attack caused the blue and white team to look its best. Karns kicked off to Zell, who returned 20 yards and fumbled only to recover. Holton added three and then fumbled. West Milton recovering on the 40.

West Milton failed to gain on three plays and a pass failed on the fourth. Xenia taking the ball on the 30; Fuller made two, Holton 3, Zell 3 and Currie first down. Fuller was stopped and Holton made one. A pass failed and Currie punted out of bounds on the 30.

Brumbaugh made two in two attempts, and then made first down. Stopped on the next three attempts, Brumbaugh punted to Zell who fumbled, Currie recovering. Holton made eight in two attempts and Currie made first down. Currie lost two, but Holton made six, Currie four and Currie first down again. Scurry made eight and Holton again made it first down. The quarter ended with the ball on the 38 yard line.

Zell made four and Currie five, and Zell made first down. Zell made three and Xenia lost five for off side play. Holton made two and then five and a pass failed, but West Milton was penalized 14 yards for roughing the passer. Holton, Currie and Zell made seven and with the ball four yards from the goal line, Currie failed. Brumbaugh punted to Currie on the 32. Scurry made three and Fuller five and Currie lost eight yards. Fuller was swamped in an attempt to pass. West Milton taking the ball on downs. Brumbaugh made six and Xenia lost five for off side play. Karns made eight, then seven and Brumbaugh added eight.

Karns scored on a cross buck on the next play. Xenia was off side on the try for point and the point was awarded West Milton.

Karns kicked off to Fuller who made a nice return to the 35. West Milton intercepted Scurry's forward pass as the half ended.

Karns kicked off to Currie who fumbled but recovered on the 30. Zell made three and Scurry lost four. Cross took Fuller's place at half back. Currie failed to gain and punted to Wilgus on the 50. Cross intercepted Brumbaugh's pass on the 40. Zell made one and Currie lost three and punted. A pass, Brumbaugh to Karns netted 15. Brumbaugh made eight and Crew made it first down. West Milton lost 15 yards for holding. A pass failed and Brumbaugh punted to Currie on his own 19.

Holton made one and Currie lost two and then was stopped. His attempted punt was blocked by Fitzhans, who covered the ball on the two yard line. Markley was called back and carried the ball over for the second touchdown. Karns missed the attempt to goal.

Karns kicked off over the goal line.

Xenia taking the ball on the 20. Zell lost one at the quarter ended. Chitty was substituted for Cross. Holton made two and West Milton was penalized five for offside play. Currie made seven around end. Scurry added one and Zell made it first down. Holton made one and Zell four, but Currie lost five. Currie punted out of bounds on the 40.

On the first play, Brumbaugh passed to Karns who covered 35 yards for the final touchdown. Xenia blocked the attempt to goal. Karns kicked off to Zell, who returned the ball to his own 38. Currie was stopped and then Crew intercepted a pass. West Milton lost 15 yards for a substitute talking on the first play. A pass Karns to Brumbaugh netted 25 yards. Two passes, Karns to Brumbaugh grounded as the game ended.

BAYLIFFS READY FOR NORTH DAYTON MERCHANTS SUNDAY

By L. J. Wones

The Bayliff Electric baseball team will close its season Sunday afternoon at Washington Park looking up with the North Dayton Merchants, city champs of Dayton.

The Merchants have a real ball club and one that will give the Bayliffs a hard game. Steck, who manages the Dayton outfit, has assembled a smart bunch of diamond artists and they know the game well. The big thing about the Merchants is their hitting. They have beaten down many a diamond foe on their ability to clout the ball in the pinches. Their field is generally faultless and of the sensational type.

The Merchants' pitching never has been such a whole lot but it is good enough to give any semi pro team a merry time of it on the diamond. The North Dayton outfit has three good fielders in Steck, Tangleman and Rosenkranz. The last two played with the Champion Maxwell team while Steck was with the Scales. Winners of the Municipal League pennant. Al Lape is another star performer. Al plays at the far corner and takes care of everything that comes down his way. The rest of the team is equally as good and wins Gaylor on first. Stuppe on second and Varley at short with DeHanev of the International League catching the Merchants promise to put up a stubborn game against the Bayliffs. Reese and Borman will take care of the hurling for Manager Steck's line.

As to the Bayliffs they seem to be all set and feel confident they will be returned winners in Sunday's fracas. The Electric bunch have some nice diamond performers in the lineup. Early of Jamestown looks to be just as good a shortstop as any around these parts.

At present he is hitting .247 while his fielding in the 24 games played is .842 a good average. Russ Shuey who takes care of the initial sack for the Bayliffs, is another athlete who has won quite a few games for the Electrics this year. This is Russ's first year of playing at the initial sack and he is doing a nice job of it. Shuey is leading the Bayliffs with the ash having an average of 400 in the 18 games he has played with the "Jew's" nine.

Manager Bayliff will start Curtis Free against the North Dayton outfit and if Curt is in the same form he was last week he will make things a bit unpleasant for the Gem City tribe. Bob Herman will also be on hand ready to take up the pitching burden in case Free slips. Cation will catch. Shuey will be the doorman. Longnecker will take care of the middle sack. Early will be at short while Furnace will be found at the difficult corner. Leach, Stiles, Kavanagh, Kerner and Horne will make up the outfield.

Play will be called at 2:45 o'clock with Norris in charge. Returns of the world's series game will be given by innings at the Park.

Grid-Dust

By Ray Higgins

It begins to look like Schwab, versatile end on the Central High School football team, is going to be a grid-iron hero this year.

If Coach Earl Burgner's alleged football team keeps up its present tactics, Schwab will go down in Central High's football history, as the only player on the 1923 team to score a point during an entire season.

So far, Schwab is holding undisputed sway to the questionable honors. He gained his title through a matter of only a few inches. The inches stood between the ball and the goal posts the time he attempted a place kick from field in the first game with West Milton. Let's see, that way away back on October 5, 1923.

It seems the boys worked to a ball down so quickly without striking a distance but when it came to delivering the scoring punch, it was out like your last match at midnight. So Schwab was called back and placed kicked the oval across the uprights with a few inches to spare. The kick gave Xenia three points. It was quite a memorial occasion. We remember that there was considerable cheering and all that sort of run-tum-tiddle.

We are recounting all of this all over again because it gave us the only opportunity we have had all season to write something nice about the boys. A scoring punch means just as much to a sport writer as it does to a football team. If the team don't score, there is nothing to elaborate on. Max

Mr. William Fulkerson is visiting relatives in Dunkirk, Ind. Earl Wright and Clifford Sanders, who have been occupying the Billmyre home on the Van Eaton road have moved to Xenia. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have taken the Derrick house on Center Street. Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will reside on West Second St.

We say "mighty little," because there is one thing that furnishes a thrill similar to a scoring punch. That is a defensive punch. If a team has neither, you can see where it leaves the sport writer. One of the first things a football team should learn is this: "A team cannot beat you if it is unable to score against you." Of course there is such a thing as a scoreless tie, but even a scoreless tie is better than a 19 to 0 defeat.

We said last week that Xenia would win the second game with West Milton by three touchdowns. We take it all back now. It was a typographical error. What we should have said was: "Xenia will win or lose by three touchdowns." You can't fool an expert.

Here is a tip! The team plays most of its games on Friday leaving only four practice days. Football players should ALL practice hard and faithfully ALL FOUR NIGHTS. Such a team is bound to win sometime.

IMPERIALS DRILL SUNDAY MORNING

Members of the Imperial football team will practice at Reserve Park Sunday morning at nine o'clock in anticipation of their game there in the afternoon with the Springfield Meteors.

Team members expected for the practice are E. Leahy, F. Leahy, Lucas, J. Rachford, Robinette, Fudge, Foley, Cunningham, Milburn, J. Donovan, Stafford, Jones, Anderson, Neville, Heery, Davis, Rearick, Dalton, Roach and Skelly. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

McClelland Neighborhood

James Schamerhorn had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse last week. A corn cob lodged in its throat.

Miss Rosalie Hollingshead of the Cincinnati schools spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James Hollingshead.

Are You Contented?

AN enterprising publication recently asked thousands of farmers' wives this most personal question: "Are you contented with your lot?" In 94 per cent of all cases the answer was "Yes, decidedly."

Yet, only a decade ago farm life meant drudgery. Today the washing-machine and electric iron make quick work of what used to be a formidable task. New utensils speed up the preparation of meals. Dish washing is disposed of in short order. Vacuum cleaners lend their most effective aid. Running water, better cleansers and innumerable household helps lighten, quicken and improve the work.

That is what advertising means to women on the farm. It has brought them countless appliances which help in their work, better conditions in their homes, add to their pleasure and increase their interest in life.

Advertising means as much to you. Advertisements published in this paper continually tell of many conveniences and comforts that you might other wise miss.

SCHOOL HEADS OF COUNTY ACT UPON QUESTIONS FRIDAY

Unanimous action on several county-wide school problems was taken at the meeting of superintendents and executive heads of ten different schools of the county at County Superintendent J. C. Aultman's office, Friday afternoon.

The school officials will attempt to make Greene County 100 per cent in enrollment in the State Teachers' Association, it was decided at the meeting.

The literary programs that have been in vogue during the winter months in Greene County schools, will be continued on the same plan as they were last year, with the exception of the debating contests between the different schools. If the debates are held they will be among students of the same school, to avoid feeling that has sometimes arisen, as the result of a heated debate between two different schools.

The meetings will be joint affairs, each school to furnish half of the program. The first meeting will be held the first Friday in December, the schools to join for the meetings, as follows: Cedarville High School at Ross Township; Bath Consolidated at Yellow Springs; Jamestown at Beavercreek; Springfield at Bellbrook; and Caesar Creek at Bowersville.

Most of the teachers will take their legal opportunity of attending the teachers' meeting of Central Ohio at Dayton, November 2. Ross Township school teachers and several others will attend the Southwestern Ohio meeting at Cincinnati, October 26 and 27.

The school heads decided at the meeting Friday to give informational geographic problem tests from the fifth to the eighth grades inclusive, throughout Greene County. The tests will follow the place and locational geographic tests, given this time last year in the same grades.

MRS. A. E. RANDALL DIES ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Anna E. Randall, 75, sister of John C. Littleton, of near Yellow Springs, died at the home of her brother, J. B. Littleton, 420 South Limestone Street, Springfield, Friday night. Funeral services will be held at two o'clock, Monday at the home of her brother, with interment at Ferncliff Cemetery.

Mrs. Randall leaves an adopted daughter, Mrs. George Schaeffer of Springfield; two brothers, J. B. Littleton, of Springfield, and John C. Littleton, of near Yellow Springs, and one sister, Mrs. A. H. Fry, of Springfield.

ADDRESSES WILL FEATURE MEETING

A program of addresses and reports from missionaries, branch and district officers and others, will take place at the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Springfield district, to be held at the High Street M. E. Church, Springfield, Friday, beginning at 10 a. m.

The Standard Bearers' banquet at six o'clock will bring together young women from all parts of the district.

The Auxiliary of the W. F. M. S., of the First M. E. Church, this city, will meet at the home of Mrs. E. F. Canby, on North King street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when delegates to the district meeting will be appointed.

GETS DRIVE AGAINST THE CIGARETTE STARTED

Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter, president of the Greene County W. C. T. U., and campaign manager to prevent the cigarette in the hands of childhood, has returned from a tour of northern Ohio, where she succeeded in arranging for and starting a county drive, the nucleus of a state campaign in six counties, to combat the cigar.

The W. C. T. U. has only fourteen months to secure from 5,000 to 25,000 members of the campaign in each county in the state, according to Mrs. Flatter. "The work will be done as the people are aroused to the knowledge and results of letting the child use the cigarette, and bringing up a generation unfit, morally, mentally and physically to uphold the ideals of America," she declared.

VOICES PLEA FOR PROPOSED PENSION LAW IN ADDRESS

Judge William Kuntz, of Zanesville, addressed members of Xenia Aerie, No. 1659, Fraternal Order of Eagles here Friday night, on the subject of the proposed old age pension law, which will be voted on at the polls, next month.

Judge Kuntz talked in place of William J. O'Reilly, ex-Congressman from Missouri, who was unable to be present. His address was a plea for voters to cast their ballots in favor of the proposed law at the November election.

Judge Kuntz said there are 100 inmates of the infirmary in his home county, and the institution is kept up at an annual cost of $35,000. With the old age pension law in effect, he said, the expense of maintaining an infirmary would be reduced to half that amount.

The speaker said many people had the idea the pension law would be a burden to the tax payer whereas, he said, it would actually eliminate some of the taxes they have to pay. If the Eagles do not pass the old age bill this fall, they will keep up the fight to do so until it does pass, he said, having been successful in passing the widow's pension and the workman's compensation act.

Judge Kuntz said he would like to see Xenia Aerie with 600 members by June 1, 1924.

CO-OPERATIVE WHEAT MARKETING ON LARGE SCALE DECIDED BY FARM LEADERS

Lifting the wheat farmer from his present slough of financial difficulties and low prices to the level of the cotton and tobacco growers by the same means that lifted them—co-operative marketing on a national scale—was decided upon this week in Chicago by representative cooperative and agricultural leaders called into conference, as the best means of correcting the present national situation in wheat. "Survey of the six principle wheat growing states, with the view of working through present facilities where they exist and creating them where they are not, was voted by the conference, which resolved itself into a permanent committee and elected an executive committee, with former Governor Frank O. Lowden as chairman to carry on the work.

Robert W. Bingham of Louisville, a leader in the tobacco cooperative marketing movement and present chairman of the National Council of Farmers' Cooperative Marketing Associations, who called the conference, invited such cooperative leaders as Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, president of the American Cotton Growers Exchange, Arthur Sapiano of New York and San Francisco, organizer of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association and numerous other co-operative groups; George C. Jewett, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers Association and others.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation; Frank Mondell, another director, and M. G. Vobe of the bureau of agricultural economics, appointed by President Coolidge to investigate the wheat situation, sat in the conference and following its conclusion declared they saw in co-operative marketing the real solution in the wheat problem and assured the committee of the support of the administration and of the government agencies that may be able to help the plan.

Declaring the wheat situation to be almost the only blemish on an otherwise prosperous national agricultural situation and nothing that the brightest spots in this situation were the cotton and tobacco growers and the California fruit growers, where co-operative marketing is at its best, Mr. Bingham called the conference to decide if such methods could improve the wheat farmers' situation.

Surveying the situation will be the first work of the national executive committee, which numbers in its membership, besides Chairman Lowden, Mr. Bingham, Mr. Williams, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, W. C. Settle of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. Jewett and Don Wallace, editor of The Farmer, Herman Stein, associate editor of The Prairie Farmer, has been appointed executive secretary and work will be started on the committee's program within the next few days.

Mr. Meyer and Mr. M. Mondell, in attending this conference, began an investigating trip which is expected to cover every wheat producing state, being undertaken at the request of President Coolidge with a view of finding a way improving the situation.

A WIFE'S STORY

DAVE LOGAN DECLARES HIMSELF

Chapter LII.

My opportunity to speak to Dave came sooner than I expected. He came in at tea time, found me alone. Paul had left for Canada that morning, Joan was in town, and Laura had gone boating with some of her young friends. I welcomed him gladly, taking no pains to hide my pleasure in his visit.

"You have neglected us, Dave," I said. "We have missed you."

"Have you missed me, Ruby?" he asked bending an inscrutable look upon me.

"Of course I have! Now you are here you must stay to dinner. Paul is away, Joan in town, but Laura will soon be in and she will be glad to see you," I explained, as I seated myself at the tea-table.

Laura is like you, Ruby.

Paul in her make-up," Dave said, then: "never mind the tea, I will talk to you."

"But you can talk and have your tea at the same time," I replied wondering at his brusqueness.

He waved the cup away.

"Ruby, why do you suppose I have been coming here—coming where you were all these years?" he asked.

"Why, how terribly serious you are!" I said, a bit nervously, his manner, unusual, as if he were holding himself in check, reacting upon me.

"I mean to be serious. You haven't answered my question: Why do you suppose I have been coming where you were?"

"Because we are very good friends!" I responded lightly. "And because you are fond of Paul. Do have a cup of tea, Dave. It will cheer you up."

Again he waved the cup aside.

"Ruby, it has come to a show down. I have loved you ever since I first saw you, I think. I almost got over it during the years you hid from me; and afterward, when you seemed to have lost all your youth, and was so worn and broken by your struggle. But I hadn't gotten over it and as soon as I commenced seeing you again my feeling for you came back, stronger than ever. I haven't always been a good man, Ruby, but for your sake I shall try to be a good one now—if you will give me your promise to come to be, be mine. I know you love me. You have given me a thousand reasons for knowing it. Your delight in seeing me, your confidence when worried, in many ways you have shown you cared and Ruby I have—"

"Stop!" I cried at last. I had been too dazed, too shocked to interrupt, hoping I did not understand, that he meant only he wanted to me my friend. But now his meaning was too clear, and horrified I cried out in protest.

"You don't realize what you are saying, what you are doing. It is hard to believe you would deliberately insult me, but you are. I love my husband, Dave, and even if I didn't I am his wife."

"You owe him nothing. What has he ever done for you? Let you slave for his children, taken life easy while it was so hard for you, and being untrue—for Ruby, he never has been true to you—never."

"I'll not believe that! Paul may not have always done right"—oh, how I regretted ever talking of my anxieties to Logan! "But I'll not believe him false to his vows."

"I can prove it, not in one instance but in many. Paul is a—"

"Stop!" I interrupted again. "I won't listen to another word!"

"Very well, Ruby, I'll say nothing more on that subject, but Paul never cared for you honestly—"

"What do you mean? Paul is working hard, is being successful, I am proud of him. He had his time of weakness, but he is older now, has steadied down and—oh, Dave! I thought you—you were his best friend. How can you talk like this?"

I feel as if I were having some horrible nightmare.

"Why did you think I befriended him, a weakling whom I despised—only to be near you, with you, and—to make life easier for you. My money let me do that and—she is dead, so you—"

"Your—money. You mean that Paul borrows—now?" I interrupted.

"Now, he doesn't need to now. But he is not making his money in a way to please you, Ruby, but perhaps you know and condone."

"What do you mean? You shall tell me," I exclaimed but Logan shook his head, refusing to speak.

Tomorrow: Self-Condensation.
